

Road Caves in to Driver's Dismay

A casualty of yesterday's heavy rain is this big, loaded furniture truck stuck in the middle of West Walnut street near the new Penna Village homes. The wheels sunk more than 21 inches into macadam and gravel used to fill a recently-dug trench for a new water line. Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden said the rain undoubtedly had undermined and weakened the fill. The driver, Edwin Bean, Reading (shown above), said the truck was there nearly three hours. He wanted the borough to have him towed out. The borough wanted him to do what he eventually did, hire a big tow truck to do the job. While stuck there, Bean helped an auto driver who got stuck in a shallower cave-in after passing the truck. Second after this photo was taken, the wheels were lifted free.

LACK OF MOVE ON LOTS SEEN AS REJECTION

Council Remains Mum on Free Offer of Land For Playgrounds

BOROUGH ACCEPTANCE MEANS ASSESSMENT LOSS

No official move has been made on the three Belmont terrace lots offered the borough for playgrounds it was learned last night. Lack of council expression on the issue is believed to represent a tacit rejection of the offer. If the borough accepts the two Park drive and one Terrace lane lots it would lose a new-street assessment of approximately $3 per front foot along the tracts. Both Park drive and Terrace lane are included in the borough's street-improvement program. Allen K. Davidheiser, contractor who offered to donate the lots to the borough for playground purposes only, said he would build houses on the properties unless the borough accepts them this Summer.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden said last night, "There has been no official action by any borough group since I've been here and I don't remember any official offer being received." J. Max Cresswell, chairman of the recreation commission, who inspected the lots with commissioners Charles L. Rohland, Leonard Hillwine and L. Leroy Johnson, and Recreation Director Robert A. Reis this past July 12, reported, "We won't request the borough take over the lots and we have not power to make the move ourselves."

"It's up to the borough. If council should want the lots then we'll do with them what we can with available funds. We do not have the money at the present time to operate the lots."

Davidheiser told The Mercury he offered the lots to the borough when Doy I. Sears, former borough president, was in office.

HEAT PASSES AS RAINS SOAK AREA GROUND

Farmers Hail Relief; Most Crops Are Saved

The rain arrived over Pottstown early yesterday morning, and called attention to itself with a pavement-flooding cloudburst. The heaviest rain came at 4 a. m. and lasted until well after dawn. It was the final blow to the boiling heat wave that has been cooking the area, the weatherman said.

Total rainfall all day yesterday in Pottstown was 1.17

Farmers Husk Corn Despite Lack of Rain

Lack of rain since early in June didn't seem to retard at least one corn crop. Harry Wier and Marie Kapemstein, Pine Forge farmers, husked their field corn early this week. They are believed to be the first corn harvesters in this locality. They totaled 50 bushels for their first effort of 1953.

inches, of which 1.07 fell before noon. The rains came none too soon, area farmers said. Field corn will be the chief crop to benefit, they remarked. Many patches of sweetcorn, though, were burned up by the unrelenting sun before relief came.

ANOTHER CROP that needed rain was oats. Many fields of

Spiezio Nixes Airing Of Traffic Charge

The former Pottstown motorist scheduled to appear before Second ward Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley has waived a hearing for appearance in Montgomery county court. Frederick A. Spiezio, 21, formerly of Pottstown, whose latest address was listed as Orlando Fla., waived last night's scheduled hearing through his attorney, L. Stanley Mauer. Bail of $500 was continued for court.

Spiezio was arrested by Patrolman William A. Mars and Motor Patrolman Paul I. Galloway early on the morning of this past July 2.

Two years ago Mrs. Dominic Falcone, Pottstown RD 3, bought a philodendron plant and found that it would not grow. She placed it in a flower pot and decided to give it one more chance. Today the plant sits on her windowsill in the sunlight. It has grown up one wall, across the ceiling and down two other walls. The healthy plant is watered twice a week and is still growing. Mrs. Falcone said she will not trim the plant, but let it grow where it wants.

Rhee's Stand on South Korea Draws Fire, Sympathy From Pottstonians

By FRED C. SELBY (Mercury Staff Writer) If you want to stir up a rousing discussion among people in Pottstown, just ask them what America should do about the present attitude of Syngman Rhee, president of South Korea. This seemed clear yesterday when representative Pottstown leaders were asked for their opinion on the elderly Rhee. Rhee had threatened to have South Korea fight on alone if the UN signed a truce with the Chinese Communists. American diplomats conferred with him had him pledge support of a truce. But Wednesday, when signing of the truce seemed only a few days away, Rhee announced that South Korea would feel free to act on its own should Chinese Red troops not get out of Korea in six months after an armistice.

What should America do now? Try to go along with him? Get tough with him? Pull out of Korea altogether? Mrs. Carson C. Potter, a leading Pottstown clubwoman, minced no words on the subject. She said, "He (Rhee) was trying to pull some crooked things to start with and he still is just as crooked as he can be. We should get out and let him settle his own affairs."

She said she'd often heard, and was inclined to believe, that Rhee was greatly responsible for the outbreak of the Korean war. "My own feeling about it—and I got it from some of the boys who were over there—is that we had no business there in the first place," Mrs. Potter declared.

Mrs. Potter is a former president of the Century club and is president of the Past Presidents' Club of Montgomery County, an organization representing major women's clubs.

FURTHER from Mrs. Potter's views were those of Mrs. J. Robert Gray, who was secretary of Pottstown's Town Hall. She said, "I can't help but be very sympathetic to Syngman Rhee. After all, he's fighting for his own country. He believes in unification of Korea, as I do."

Mrs. Gray added firmly, "It's his country. We're there in the first place because we assumed a trusteeship of South Korea. We interfered in their internal affairs. We can't back out now and leave them hanging."

Mrs. Gray has attended lectures on Korean problems and as Town Hall secretary, she met Louise Yim, South Korean delegate to the UN, when Miss Yim spoke in Pottstown in February of 1948.

In the hope of firmer footing today, the shows are slated to go on at 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m.

The morning shows are scheduled for Brookside, Hillcrest, Happy Hill, Washington, Jefferson and Tot Lot.

Session Called Over Dog Tiff, Spokesman Says

Dog Catcher Willard H. Wilkinson tonight will be given a hearing by Burgess William A. Griffith it was reported by a spokesman for the burgess last night. Samuel R. Scheffler, 409 Chestnut street, reported, "There will be a hearing for the dog catcher tomorrow night (tonight) at 6 o'clock in borough hall and the burgess wants those of us who are familiar with Wilkinson's activities to testify."

Scheffler referred to the hearing as a "trial" for the dog catcher.

Mrs. Louise Kowalski, who appeared at a joint meeting of council's property and finance committees Wednesday night with Scheffler and other representatives of the SPCA, reported last night, "I talked with the burgess and he told me there will be a hearing for Wilkinson and he said anyone who has any grievances should appear."

THE SLATED hearing is the result of a running battle between Wilkinson, the SPCA and the burgess.

When the two council committees met to study requests by SPCA women for a new dog pound the session broke into a feud between Wilkinson and the women.

The dog catcher was charged with mistreatment of dogs and with tolerating unclean conditions at the kennel.

Women have asked the burgess on numerous occasions to investigate the activities of Wilkinson.

Scheffler reported last night, "I talked with the burgess at noon today and he promised there would be some kind of a dog pound constructed."

Scheffler, who raised French poodles and has been a dog fancier for years, has been mentioned as a possible successor to Wilkinson.

He explained his interest in dogs, "I'm retired. I do it more as a hobby than anything else, more to keep my mind occupied than for any money I might receive."

The burgess asked council at its June 8 meeting to construct a new pound.

At that session he read a letter from the SPCA women in which he reported the present pound is

Senate Approves Measure That Adds Two to Assembly

Pottstown area's chances of getting its first State assemblyman in more than a decade loomed brighter last night as the Senate passed a House reappointment

The redistricting measure, which would increase the House membership from 208 to 210, immediately went to a joint House-Senate conference committee to iron out any flaws that could destroy the plan in a court test.

While in session, the conference committee also is expected to give a second look at a special provision, new in reappointment legislation, to keep the remainder of the law intact should one section be found unconstitutional.

Under the clause, a defect within a county reappointment arrangement would result in:

1. If the total number of representatives from the county is unchanged from the present law, then the present reappointment arrangement would continue in effect or

2. If the total number of representatives from the county is increased or decreased, then the entire delegation from the county would be elected on a county-wide basis.

Boy Injured in Fall From 15-Foot Porch

A 3½-year-old Spring Mount boy was reported in "satisfactory" condition at Memorial hospital last night after he fell 15 feet from a high porch to a crushed stone driveway at his home.

John Bickert was rushed to the hospital by his father, William, who picked him off the stones with a severe cut over the right eye. He was admitted to the hospital at 8:05 o'clock after treatment in the dispensary.

X-rays will be taken today.

Recommendation Is Same As Past Year's Figure

Pottstown Visiting Nurse organization last night was recommended an $8600 appropriation for 1953 by a United Fund panel.

The recommendation was identical to the past year's allocation, and the 1953 request submitted by the organization.

Organization Secretary Leona V. Smith reported 5542 visits during the year. The group employs three full-time nurses, a part-time nurse and clerk.

Forty-six percent of organization income comes from the United Fund.

Patient fees represent 21 percent of income. The Department of Public Assistance contributes 6 percent. Among the sources of organization support is St. Aloysius parochial school which donates 1.2 percent.

Of the 5542 patient days, 918 are free, 1028 are partially-paid, 2098 are fully-paid, $20 are paid for by the Department of Public Assistance and the remaining 678 are financed by insurance, the Veterans administration and the Montgomery county tuberculosis (Continued on Page Eleven)

15 VFW Members Hear Parley Report

Fifteen members of Post 780, Veterans of Foreign Wars, heard a report on this month's annual department (Pennsylvania) convention at the post meeting last night.

The two local delegates who reported were Merritt S. Wien, past commander, and J. Earl Antrim, chief of staff of the 16th (Montgomery county) district. Antrim also will attend the national convention.

Members made plans at the meeting for the festival they will hold in the rear of the post home on Aug. 7. Proceeds will go into a fund for a children's Christmas party.

Commander Wien appointed an 11-man committee to plan a clam-bake for September on post property.

Committee members include Paul Surma, Richard Amole, Lincoln Buchanan, William Rignhour, Reuben Geist, Emery Stevens, Smith McAllister, James Doyle, John Toomey, David E. Buchanan and Harold Heydt. John Amwake was appointed blood donor chairman for the next blood day to be sponsored by the post.

Five new post members were accepted last night.

85 TO ATTEND ANNUAL RETREAT

Local Men to Leave This Afternoon For Malvern

Eighty-five men are expected to leave Pottstown this afternoon for Malvern, where they will attend the annual laymen's retreat.

Cars will leave the postoffice, High and Washington streets, between 4:45 and 6:30 p. m.

Transportation will be provided for men who wish to attend, but do not have cars of their own. Anthony Confino, transportation administrator, announced.

The weekend retreat will last until Sunday afternoon. It is sponsored by the Laymen's Retreat League.

STEPHEN J. Vagasky, president of the Pottstown Retreat association, said that any man or boy from Pottstown is welcome to attend, regardless of religious affiliation.

"It is an opportunity for the average man to get away from the turmoil of daily life and take stock of his spiritual life," he said.

On the retreat grounds, the men live in dormitories without radios.

Cars Jam Garages In Attempt to Beat Inspection Deadline

There's a jam-up of cars in Pottstown garages as motorists are trying to beat the July 31 deadline for State inspections, garage men agreed yesterday. But they didn't agree on how bad the jam up is.

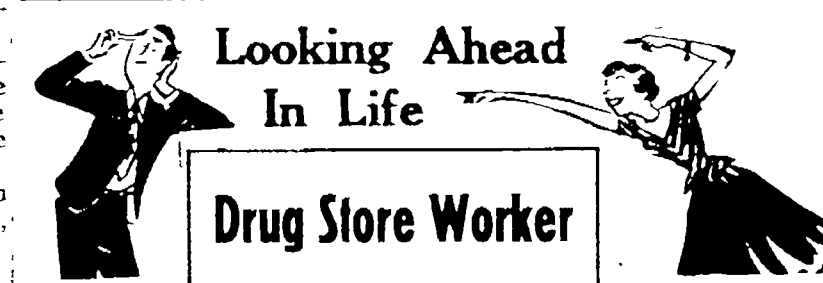

Charles A. Fiss, service manager for Cates and Becker incorporated, West High street, said, "It's worse this year than it's ever been."

He said new cars had been early birds in the three-month inspection period, but owners of older cars had been holding back until the last minute.

From what he can gather, he said, the reason for the holding back is that money isn't as loose as it was the past year, and motorists are putting inspection off because they dread paying whatever the cost will be.

Support for Fiss' theory came from John G. Motto who owns a repair garage at 221 South Hanover street, South Pottstown.

"Up till last week," Motto said, "we were running nearly 100 inspections behind, but this week, the rush is on. Some of them were holding off because of money. Everybody must have been on (Continued on Page Sixteen)

To the memory of the Man, first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen.—Henry Lee.

Place In The Sun
REAPPORTIONMENT of the State assembly, which is destined to give Montgomery county an additional representative at the capitol in Harrisburg, should return Pottstown to its rightful place in the political sun.

For 14 years Pottstown, which is the county's largest industrial center, has not had a resident in the halls at Harrisburg.
Even today with five Montgomery counties holding chairs in the legislative hall, the one living closest to Pottstown resides at Mont Clare, which is almost half-way across the county.

The growth and expansion of the Pottstown area in the last decade require on-the-spot representation. This is especially important where industry prevails as heavily as it does here.

In past years the Pottstown end of the county has more or less divided its allegiance between the Republicans and the Democrats in the elections, which after all determine where the spoils shall be distributed. It was difficult for the Republican leaders to provide patronage for an area that did not support them as well as another area might.

Under the leadership of William J. Boden, the "upper end" of the county has become increasingly more important to the Republican cause. In this respect there could not possibly be any repercussions from so-called rock-ribbed areas.

All in all, the Pottstown area not only merits local representation after a decade and a half without it but must have it because of its growth and increased importance.

No stone should be left unturned by the powers that be to provide this representation as soon as feasible.

Pottstown certainly is entitled to it.

'Must' List: Second Version

JULY 31 is still the target date for the adjournment of Congress, but Republican congressional leaders are beginning to talk about going on until they get President Eisenhower's "must" legislative program passed.

Speaker Martin and Acting Majority Leader Knowland have talked the situation over at the White House and here is what the party conference has agreed on for passage before adjournment:

- Pending appropriation bills.
- Reciprocal trade legislation.
- Emergency relief legislation.
- Continental shelf legislation.
- Postal rate increases.
- Farm credit extension.
- Agricultural surplus disposal bill.
- Military public works authorization.
- Ratification of five treaties.

This is a second "must" list. The 11-point list announced for the President by Senator Taft early in February included such items as the Hawaiian admission bill, extension of social security and increase in the size of the District of Columbia commission.
The two latter items are not now mentioned.
The two latter items are not now mentioned and statehood for Hawaii was cited as a measure which could be run through "if we have the time."

The citizen may wonder what it is that Congress has to do other than to stay on the job and debate and pass on proposed legislation. That is why Senators and Representatives are elected and paid. Yet a chief aim of the Eisenhower Administration has been to get Congress adjourned so the people's lawmakers can be eased out of Washington and back home for six months.

A much sounder course would be to use this session to get as many of the Eisenhower campaign promises enacted as possible. Next year is a campaign year. In it the White House and Congress will face the big job of revising the federal tax structure.
That will be a heavy task in itself without the complication of bills which should have been taken up this year. If the past is any guide, the President will enjoy greater prestige in his year than in any other.

The new "must" list is no doubt a counter-attack to growing criticism of the GOP.
Congress, as for example, in the pro-Eisenhower Washington Post, which says the Congress is in danger of becoming a "Do-Nothing Congress." Surely it would have a thin record to go to the voters on should Congress adjourn now, as was once anticipated.

Speaks With Authority

To the Editor: After a week's lapse,
"Old Pro" ("Fell for Propaganda," Readers Say, July 23) rebels again.
Does he rebel to world conditions or local problems?

No. He envies people who have made a success of themselves. Could it be that one is maladjusted because he speaks in terms of dollars and cents, not common sense?

"Old Pro" has learned a lot. His source of knowledge must be the Communist's "Daily Worker" because it is one track spelling envy.

In all his utterances, he spoke wise words once, "I needn't be a famous sports writer." I gather all my information from authoritative sources.

Lost Secrets

To the Editor: It is too bad we did not have any radio or television or recordings a couple of centuries ago.

Because of that we shall probably never know what brand of cigarettes or breakfast food was responsible for the mainly courage and steady nerves of George Washington, Andrew Jackson, Davy Crockett and many other great heroes of the past.

WASHINGTON

Ike Must Drop Adams, Capitol Observers Feel

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, July 23 — President Eisenhower in the opinion of Capitol Hill experts will never enjoy good relations with Congress or the Republican organization until he gets rid of Sherman Adams as his top White House aide. Almost every Presidential blunder can be traced to the ineptitude or ignorance of Washington ways on the part of the Yankee iceber.

Eisenhower himself is largely at fault for his difficulties, but his utter reliance on the former New Hampshire governor aggravates them. Time and again, Ike has shown indifference or misunderstanding of the issues and personalities on Capitol Hill. That is understandable because of his occupation with military matters until only a year ago.

Therefore, he needs around him assistants and liaison men who understand corridor and cloakroom politics. With only one term as a minor House member, and in view of his cold personality, Adams is not that man, according to almost every Republican member of House and Senate.

A small House group, although naturally reluctant to invade the executive field, have met several times to discuss whether they should present formal complaints against Adams to Ike himself.

LACK POLITICAL EXPERIENCE:

The Eisenhower-Adams lack of political savvy explains why there have been so many clashes on foreign and domestic questions between Capitol Hill and the White House.

Not until the last minute do either ever discover that a majority of Republicans are hostile to the Administration attitude. There is no effective liaison between the executive and legislative branches of the Government. They live in two different political worlds.

The Martin-Halleck leadership in the House has tried to break through this non-co-operative barrier in an effort to retrieve White House bunbling. Their disciplining of such a veteran and likeable stalwart as Rep. Daniel A. Reed on the excess profits tax is the most spectacular example, although there have been many others.

But they are growing weary of disrupting the party organization in order to pull White House chestnuts out of a needless factional fire. Their loyalty has been strained too sorely and frequently.

MACHIAVELLIAN POLITICS:

Adams' failures lie behind the movement to persuade him to enter the New Hampshire senatorial primary against Sen. Styles Bridges next year. It is a Machiavellian piece of politics, for the underlying purpose is to eliminate Ike's assistant from the national scene.

No seasoned politicians believe that Adams could defeat the able and popular Bridges, who heads the powerful Appropriations committee.
The senator has been doing too many favors for his constituents since he was governor almost 20 years ago. Almost every Republican member would campaign for him against Ike's Man Friday, or any other opponent. Such a contest would mean the end of Adams.

Eisenhower, incidentally, exhibited his ignorance of political niceties on his recent visit to Dartmouth college. Instead of asking the influential Bridges to accompany him, as a Roosevelt or a Truman would have done, he invited Adams.

Use Discretion

To the Editor: When it comes to wearing shorts, I think it should be a matter of individual discretion.
Every so often it is a treat to see a pretty and shapely Miss on High street.

But there sure are a lot of heavies and skinnys in Pottstown.

So let's be honest girls—those that can wear shorts, please do, and those that can't—please don't.
Pottstown BEAUTY ADMIRER

Decency vs. Shorts

To the Editor: I would like for you to put this in your paper. I am answering these undecent women that call themselves decent when they wear shorts. I am from Alabama.

It's much hotter down there than in the Northern states. I do my housework and I wouldn't think of disgracing myself wearing such things as shorts. You should talk to the decent men. See what they think. They do not feel like fighting for their country when they see how the women carry on.

When the sun shines I wear most of the time two shirts, not just one. A decent woman does not care to show her legs to every man that comes along or expose her body.

I do not say the women here in Alabama don't wear shorts. I am ashamed of the ones that do wear them.

Now all of you decent women in Pottstown ought to organize to keep these short-loving women off the streets and public places for the benefit of your young folks that will follow your footsteps.

If the decent women allow this to go on, they will be held responsible for not crying out against it.
Alabama MRS. P. G. MICKLITZ

The Wise Housewife

To the Editor: I heard people say they're sitting home all the time. They never go no place.

I don't believe in spending money foolishly. I am putting my money into my new house. We have everything finished in my new home.

Everything costs money. I have it pretty nice. I don't go on vacation for a week or two.

I make sure first that my children have food, clothing and everything is paid for, before I would take my vacation, and I don't go borrowing money from people and never pay them back.

When I am short of money I stay home.

I don't go to work and ask the men for $15 and go for a trip and go buy a dress with somebody else's money. We work for our money and we don't bor-

Spray-Lathered Cars

EAST LANSING, Mich., July 23 — Campus police at Michigan State college were in a lather of indignation today as they sought youngsters who sprayed about a dozen cans of pressurized shaving cream over 24 cars and two buses parked on the campus.

The damage to upholstery and the finish of the cars was estimated to be about $1000.

Diamond Maker Gels Three-Year Sentence

BONN, Germany, July 23 — Germany's self-styled "diamond maker," Hermann Meinke, was convicted tonight of swindling investors through his fantastic scheme to produce 165 million dollars worth of diamonds a year from carbon — and thus make the Germans dominant in the world market.

The one-time tailor and ex-convict who won the support of cabinet ministers and prominent industrialists in building his "diamond factory" was sentenced to three years in prison.

The three-judge court also convicted Meinke's wife, Elfrieda, his brother Wilhelm, a wartime captain in the German air force, and Wilhelm's Tiny Elfrieda Meinke, the mother of three children, was sentenced to 15 months in prison for assisting the "diamond maker" sentence.

Gov. Dewey Fights Private Development Of Electric Power

WASHINGTON, July 23 — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, fighting against proposed private development of electric power at Niagara falls, said today his State has an "inalienable" right to undertake the 400 million dollar project.

Testifying before the Senate Public Works committee in support of New York's claim, Dewey said:

"We don't ask any money for this. We don't ask any State money, we don't ask any Federal money—all we ask is

Ex-President's Union Is Not Progressing According to Hoover

WASHINGTON, July 23 — Herbert Hoover said with a chuckle today that the formation of an ex-President's union isn't progressing very fast.

Hoover made the quip when a newsman asked him if "the other member of your union," meaning ex-President Truman, would be a member of the new commission on reorganization.

Hoover replied he didn't think so, adding that in the ranks of ex-presidents, Truman is only "the junior partner."

He recalled Truman said on leaving office that he and Hoover ought to form a union.

"We haven't got around to it yet," said Hoover.

The former President, interviewed in the White House lobby after calling on President Eisenhower, was in excellent spirits and chatted for some time with the newsmen.

OLD HANDS IN the White House pressroom said he never held so long and informal a session with reporters when he was President.

Somebody asked Hoover if he felt any particular emotion at revisiting the President office he left in 1933.

After reflecting briefly, Hoover replied he felt nothing except "a little discontent" at being called back to Washington from a fishing vacation.

Hoover will be 79 years old Aug. 10.

Universal Training Under Consideration

WASHINGTON, July 23 — President Eisenhower today ordered a new study to determine whether a Universal Military training program is feasible.

The President said in a statement he was taking the action in the hope of correcting "inequities" that have put a burden on reserve service on war veterans while thousands of young men escape military duty.

Eisenhower gave the assignment of making the study to the national security training commission. It made previous studies that brought recommendations that a universal training program be established for all physically fit young men.

At the same time Eisenhower sent the Senate the nomination of three commission members to fill vacancies.

C. V. Sell Approved For Tax Collector

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, July 23—Judges George C. Corson and E. Arnold Forrest today confirmed the appointment of Clement U. Sell, 40, Pennsburg RD., as tax collector for Marlborough township.
Sell, a bus driver, was named to fill the vacancy created by the death of Clayton Long, Pennsburg RD., on Oct. 4, 1952.
Sell's recommendation for the post was made to the Court by the board of supervisors. The new tax collector is a Democrat and an active worker for Christ's Lutheran church, Niantic.

Girl Has Dull Day Until Robbers Arrive

ALLENTOWN, July 23—Eleanor A. Pail, 18-year-old secretary in the First Federal Savings and Loan association office here had only one customer in the first two hours of business today and was all set for a dull day because of a heavy rainstorm.
Minutes later two dark men walked into the office and one pointed a gun at Miss Pail: "Don't scream if you don't want to get hurt," he growled.
Then in less than five minutes, Miss Pail told police, the two swept up $568 in cash from the cash drawer, looked over the open but empty safe and made their getaway.
Miss Pail, when she had caught her breath, told police: "I preferred it dull!"

Camp Delmont Talk Heard by Rotarians

Reports on the activities at Camp Delmont during the Rotary-sponsored Tomorrow's Leader Camp, which was held June 14-19, were made last night at a club meeting in the Elks home.
Principal speaker was James Baird, who explained the history of the camp program. He noted that there was a total of 125 boys in attendance this year. He also illustrated his talk with photographs.
Other speakers included the three Pottstown Rotary club representatives to the camp. They were: Russell Norris, North Coventry High school; Paul Feight, Pottstown High school; and Paul Yarmush, West Pottsgrove High school.
Norris spoke on the campfire meetings held at the camp, while Feight talked about the various speakers that visited each day. Yarmush gave a description of the camp's sports program.

Food Offer for Hungry East Germans Made in Good Faith, Conant Declares

BERLIN, July 23—The American offer of free food for hungry East Germans was made in good faith and still stands, US High Commissioner James B. Conant told the Russians tonight. He urged them not to block distribution of the food by West German authorities.
Conant told Soviet High Commissioner Vladimir Semiyenov in a mildly-worded letter that Semiyenov was misinformed in charging yesterday that American food gifts were being used to incite an uprising by "Fascist hirelings and criminal elements" in the Communist-ruled East zone.
"The important thing is that the people in the East zone who need the food actually receive it," Conant said.
Though Russian and East German authorities denounced the plan from the start, the first shipments of 15 million dollars worth of American food are already on the Atlantic bound for Germany.
"They will be put in the hands of the Federal (West German) republic to be made available to the inhabitants of the East zone," Conant said. "I hope you will not place any obstacles in the way of the distribution of this food by Germans to Germans."
Several thousand food packages a day are now being given to needy East Germans by seven West Berlin boroughs, which are financing this initial relief action from city funds.
A relief market in one US-sector borough provided 25,000 East Germans the past week with milk, potatoes and fruits at a fifth their normal price.
American officials here say the US government is now out of the relief picture except for turning over food shipments from the United States to West German authorities as they arrive.
Both American and German officials here say they are stumped as to how to get relief into the Soviet zone's inland provinces. Border distribution points in Berlin are no help for the citizens of distant Leipzig or Magdeburg.
Communist people's police have been alerted to clamp down controls if distribution exceeds the present rate of several thousand packages daily.
German religious charities decline to say whether they are about to increase food aid in the Soviet zone as a result of American shipments.

Vacationing With Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Have you ever thought of the Black Hills of South Dakota? Or Mt. Washington, high in White mountains of New Hampshire? Or Cascade, Colo., gateway of Rocky mountain beauty. These are among the vacation haunts of Pottstowners this Summer.

From the heart of the deep, rich country in the Black Hills comes word from Ralph Capp, King and Evans streets, a member of the Bethlehem Steel company office force.

His card was mailed from Custer, S. D., named for Gen. George freshing and scenic as most foreign states is William Achenbach, 640 Walnut street.

He wrote from Jersey Shore, Lycoming county, "Spending two weeks on vacation here in Jersey Shore. It's a nice, quiet place along Pine creek. Good swimming and fishing. The weather is just fine."

Mervyn and Evelyn Wunderlich and children, Sandy and Mervyn, Pottstown Star route, wrote from Wildwood, N. J., "Spending our vacation here and having a wonderful time."

In the cool and scenic countryside of Promised Land lake in the Pocono mountains two area families are ducking the heat and humidity.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neiman

Armstrong Custer, much publicized Injun slaughterer who wound up with a dose of his own poison.

Custer and his soldiers were annihilated at Little Big Horn, Mont., June 25, 1876. Earl "The Dasher" Flynn glamorized the butchery for Hollywood more than a decade ago in "They Died With Their Boots On."

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nyman, and Joan Elliott, 103 West Sixth street, are scanning Mt. Washington.

They reported, "We are enjoying our tour of the New England states."

The White mountains are famous for their notches. Franconia and children, Dawn and Gary, and Mr. and Mrs. John Lutz and daughter, Bonnie, wrote from Greentown in the Poconos, "Enjoying fishing, swimming and the weather at Promised Land."

STICKING close to Pottstown for her vacation is Barbara Lord, Hanover Heights, who wrote from Wood Haven, Girl Scout camp, near Elverson.

She reported, "Spending a week at camp. Having a wonderful time."

The ocean breeze at Atlantic City, N. J., is recommended by Mrs. Sadie Steffey, Spring City RD 1, as a refresher from the heat.

She wrote, "This wonderful breeze we would like in Pottstown and Spring City. But try and get it there. Having a good time."

Don't forget your friends at home when you go on vacation. Mail one card to The Mercury Vacation Editor and he will reprint your message where all your friends can read it.

Remember to include the full names and addresses of all persons in your vacation party.

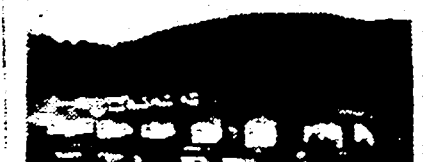

COURT ORDERS INJUNCTION AGAINST UMW UNION

CLEARFIELD, July 23 (P) — Clearfield county court ordered the United Mine Workers union today to stop interfering with the mining and transportation of coal from nine non-union strip mines.

The court order by Judge F. Cortez Bell made permanent, nine temporary injunctions against the union. The decree was a result of an agreement between the strip (surface) mine operators and the union.

The first temporary injunction was issued in October 1951, the latest in March. The mine operators charged that roving bands of union pickets halted production at various mines and enlisted strip miners into UMW membership.

PICNIC PLANS COMPLETED BY NORCO GRANGE

House Defeats Bill On Sunday Bowling

RHEE'S STAND —

Group to Hold Outing At Ringing Rocks Park

Final plans for a picnic Sunday at Ringing Rocks park were completed last night by members of the North Coventry Grange at a meeting in the Cedarville grange hall.

In the event of rain, the membership decided to hold the picnic in the Grange hall. Lunch will be served at 1 p. m. and supper at 6 o'clock.

The Grange also voted to send their lecturer, Mrs. Nettie Hartmaier, to the Middle Atlantic Lecturer's conference at the University of Delaware. The three-day gathering will begin Aug. 4 and end Aug. 6.

During the literary program, members of the Sanatoga Grange entertained the Norco group, under the direction of Edward H. Schefman, lecturer of the Sanatoga Grange.

OPENING THE PROGRAM were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keim who presented a short skit. Samuel Hanna followed with a musical selection on his autoharp and harmonica.

Another play featuring Florence Renninger, Barbara Wentzel, Wilma Renninger and Carl Troutman came next on the program.

A six-piece orchestra with Mary Ann Rapp, Robert Barnard, Patricia Hanna, Patricia High, Evelyn Rapp and Walter Schlichter played several selections.

Other performances were given by: Samuel Hanna and Walter Schlichter, sketch; Walter Schlichter, accordion selection; Mable Renninger and Betty Rahn, skit; Mary Ann Rapp and Evelyn Rapp, duet.

Conducting a round table discussion on agriculture were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brant, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keim and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rapp.

and cancer associations.

ACTIVITIES of the organization include a well-baby clinic, X-ray service once per year, health service at St. Aloysius school three times weekly, and a loan closet which includes medical supplies.

Seventy-eight percent of organization calls are for non-communicable diseases.

The Panel IV discussion at the YWCA was in charge of Chairman Dr. G. A. McCormick.

Panel members present were O. C. Beacraft, Calvin Cressman, Harold D. Eschbach, Mrs. Daniel Hayes, A. W. Koppenhaver, Mrs. C. S. Leventhal and Dr. Alice E. Sheppard.

Present for the organization were Miss Smith, Mrs. Arthur Simpson, Mrs. Roberta Mills and Mrs. Robert Perce.

John Peterson and Lowell Wright attended as consultants from the Montgomery County Health and Welfare council.

Vincio Fisher, UF executive secretary, was in charge.

The next panel session will be conducted on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock when Pottstown hospital's request for $22,000 will be studied.

The hospital received $17,000 the past year.

HARRISBURG, July 23 — The House tonight defeated by a vote of 74-74 a bill to permit Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to hold a referendum on the question of Sunday bowling.

Rep. George A. Goodling (R-York) told the House "this is just one more foot into the door that already is too crowded." He said he referred to holding sports events on Sunday.

Rep. Edward Dunn (R-Northumberland) sponsor of the bill, explained that it was designed to permit the State's two largest cities to bid for national bowling tournaments, which must run seven days a week.

He said there was a good chance the American Bowling Congress would hold its 1953 tournament in one of the two cities if the bill was passed.

Church to Recapture Christmas Spirit

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 23 — The thermometer may say July, but it will be Christmas at Immanuel Baptist church next Sunday.

Believing that the spirit of Christmas is worth recapturing in the hot summer months, the church decided to peg its services on the Yuletide theme.

There'll be Christmas trimmings, the birth of Jesus will be retold, and carols will be sung, the idea being part of a program to increase summer school attendance.

The sermon will be given by the Rev. Roy Boatwright, secretary of the Sunday school department of the General Association of Kentucky Baptists.

(The same day the South Korean woman was here, it was announced that North Koreans were being pressed into military service.)

STANLEY I. Davenport Jr., Pottstown Senior High school principal, said:

"We went in there supposedly to fulfill a pledge. . . . We should give them some guarantee that we'll stand by them."

He said he believed we should continue trying to work out an agreement satisfactory to Rhee.

Davenport added, "The rest of the small nations are watching our policy in Korea. We can't go along shouting about what we're doing for small nations and then leave a small nation in the lurch."

"I want a truce as much as anybody else, but there's a principle involved."

Dr. James I. Wendell, retired headmaster of the Hill, said he believed that Rhee's tough attitude about a truce would change if America stood firm.

"I think when it comes to a showdown," Dr. Wendell said, "he'll know that he can't maintain his South Korean republic, either economically or by way of sympathy."

"He couldn't possibly fight the North Koreans and the Chinese Communists on his own."

CLARENCE H. Renoll, commander of George A. Amole Post, 47, American Legion, said that Syngman Rhee was taking too "highly nationalistic" a view.

"He shouldn't lose sight of the fact that we are making an effort on a world basis," Renoll said.

"I'm surprised that a man educated in the US should take such an isolated conception."

Renoll said the Legion was intensely concerned about the continuing American casualties and didn't think one leader's nationalism should stand in the way of peace.

George A. Cocke, general superintendent of the Stanley G. Flag and company plant and a colonel in the Army reserve, said the question of what should be done was too complex for a ready answer.

"I feel that there are implications, political and otherwise, in this situation that the average man knows nothing about that we can't know about at present."

Cocke added, "My own personal feeling is that it is unfortunate that Mr. Rhee takes the attitude he seems to be taking."

TRYOUTS for next Wednesday's talent show will be held at 11 a. m. today at the Jackson building for Washington children and at 2 p. m. at the Franklin building for Brookside children.

Tryouts by Happy Hill, Hillcrest and Tot Lot children will be held on Monday at 1:30 p. m.

The talent show itself will be held at 7 p. m. on Wednesday in the empty splash pool at Mantawny park.

DRAFT CALLS PREDICTED

WASHINGTON, July 23 — Chairman Short (R-Mo) of the House Armed services committee said today Army draft calls probably will remain at 23,000 monthly through the next two months.

WEDNESDAY'S meeting was scheduled to discuss the request, but before the subject could be brought to the floor, women and Wilkin-on tangled over the dog catcher's activities.

The committee voted to table action because they said they wanted to hear the burgess' ideas on the requested new pound. Griffith did not attend.

Finance Chairman J. Wayne Knause pointed out the committee had nothing to do with the dog catcher's job. He said the meeting was called to study the burgess' request for a new pound.

Knause said the dog department was in the hands of Griffith.

6-Year-Old Arrives Home From Vacation

COLLEGEVILLE—Mrs. Donald Yerke, Corr. Phone Collegeville 5506, Kenneth Wanner, Del. Phone Collegeville 5842.

Sherilyn Schonberger, Schwenksville, six-year-old granddaughter of Mrs. Pearl Schonberger, arrived home by plane from a ten-day vacation spent with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stupin of Norfolk, Va.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Galt and family were Mrs. Galt's sister and brother, Mrs. William Kennedy and George Hulmes, and Mrs. Claudine Fullerton, all of Gibbsboro, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur George, Ninth avenue, spent several days in New Cumberland where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schubauer and Mrs. Harrison Schubauer.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 23 — A man and woman arrested here in connection with the killing of a dice game player in a holdup near Pittsburgh July 4 were on their way to Pennsylvania today in custody of Allegheny county officers.

Returning voluntarily with the officers were Robert E. Lutz, 29, and Marion Agnes Ketter, 21. Lutz is accused of murder, and Miss Ketter is charged with being an accessory.

A second man arrested in connection with the killing, George Joseph Gasperich, 26, was still in the county jail. He is charged with murder.

US Commissioner Mrs. Betty Marshall Graydon said Gasperich indicated he intends to fight extradition to Pennsylvania.

The trio was arrested by the FBI here the past week on Federal fugitive complaints signed by the FBI in Pittsburgh.

Howard Bloomer, Detroit Philanthropist, Dies at 81

DETROIT, July 23 — Howard B. Bloomer, retired Detroit attorney and philanthropist, died today at 81.

He was chairman of the board of directors of Dodge Brothers, incorporated, during the early 20s. He was largely responsible for establishment of 15 state parks north of Detroit and four of them now bear his name. He was a leader in youth work here.

Bill Bruton, the rookie speed demon for the Milwaukee Braves, did not participate in athletics while in high school.

Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, Mormon and Buddhist—all working for peace through freedom and brotherhood.

VICE PRESIDENT of the United States Richard M. Nixon was the speaker at the gathering, and he was given a tremendous cap-waving welcome by the boys.

"Half the world still has no such thing as Scouting," he told us. "Ask your help now in striving for a day when Scouts of all nations can gather at one Jamboree."

Toward the close of the outdoor service, 50,000 candles—one in the hand of each Scout present—were lighted.

They symbolized the idea that all Scouts are dedicated to "duty toward God."

As the candles burned, each Scout raised his right hand and repeated the Scout Oath in unison with the others.

It was a breath-taking event, that huge candlelight service—one ing license from $2 to $2.50 a year, that will linger with us a long time.

He talked with his folks for about 15 minutes over K6BSA, the official Jamboree station just off the camp grounds.

Richard's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hauff, are both amateur radio operators, and had sent a message to the station out here asking their son to call them.

Since Dick is a Phillies fan, the first question he asked when talking with them was, "How is my team doing?"

The Southwest division amateur radio club (amateur station operators in the South Coast area) has been very cooperative during the Jamboree.

Boyertown Author Sells Eighth Novel For Planned Mid-Winter Publication

W. Edmunds Claussen, 132 Easting America's great new novelist Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown, of the true West. Nobody alive to has sold his third historical novel day writes with such authenticity to Dodd, Mead and company, New of the untamed frontiers of the York city. The title of the novel is post Civil War period "Ride the Dark Hills" and will be published in mid-Winter in a hard cover book. "Ride the Dark Hills" brings to background of the Colorado river, a total of eight, the novels published by the Boyertown author. Claussen brings together a gallery of characters who have been ruined by the Civil War, who look for new life and new fortunes in a land not yet wrested from the Indians.

Claussen estimates he read 75 to 80 novels and research works on the subject before actual writing. His library of Western Americana has been called one of the finest in the state. He has long felt that authentic background is the keynote to successful fiction. A New York editor once wrote of him, "Claussen is fast becoming a writer."

Embankment Topples Loaded Coal Truck

A five-ton coal truck rolled on its side late yesterday afternoon when it was tilted by an embankment near the Boyertown RD 1 house where its coal was to be delivered.

The home owner, Mahlon Fronheiser, who lives between Bechtelsville and Hill church, said his fence was damaged and coal was scattered all over the seven-foot embankment, which is only a dozen feet from the house.

Fronheiser said he was surprised that the embankment should prove steep enough to topple a truck. He added that attempts to right the truck won't be made until today.

Fire Company Auxiliary Wins Prize in Parade

A total of 42 members of the Gilbertsville Fire company Ladies' auxiliary walked off with top laurels for having the greatest number of marching members in the annual firemen's parade held at Willow Grove this week.

In addition to members of the auxiliary, fire company members and apparatus also appeared in the parade.

Captain of the women's march, Mrs. Alveta Clauser, who reported that it marks the fourth consecutive year in which the unit has topped the prize.

Sunday School to Hold Annual Picnic Tomorrow

The annual picnic of Trinity Union Sunday school will be held on the Bechtelsville athletic grounds tomorrow. There will be games for children at 5:30 p. m.

Music during the evening will be presented by the Pottstown Band, under the direction of William F. Lamb Jr., from 7:30 to 11:30 o'clock.

Red Deputy Premier Holds Review Parade In Riot Torn Silesia

BERLIN, July 23 (AP)—Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky is in Silesia, rumored scene of anti-Red partisan troubles, the Soviet Zone News agency ADN disclosed tonight.

He took the salute in a big march-past of Polish armored and motorized forces yesterday in Katowice, the big steel and coal center of Upper Silesia, which Communists renamed Stalingrad a few months ago.

The military review was "in honor of the ninth anniversary of the liberation of Poland by the Soviet army," ADN reported.

"The future belongs to us, to the invincible camp of peace and socialism, at whose head stands the powerful Soviet Union," Rokossovsky told the assembled Poles, including workers from a new Stalingrad plant built to produce 1½ million tons of steel annually.

THE MAIN LINE of communication to Russia for the Soviet army occupying East Germany runs through Stalingrad. Sources in West Berlin say partisan outbreaks are occurring in Silesia at scattered rural points between Stalingrad and the German Neisse river frontier.

A native of Warsaw, Rokossovsky fought in the past war as a Soviet marshal but returned afterward to Poland on the Kremlin's order as Deputy Premier and minister of national defense.

Marine Transport Pilot Succumbs in Hospital

MILTON, Fla., July 23 (AP)—The pilot of a Marine transport plane which crashed near Whiting field the past Friday night died today, increasing the death toll in the disaster to 43.

Capt. C. E. Graff, Morehead City, N. C., commander of the twin-engine plane, died in Pensacola Naval Air Station hospital shortly before noon.

His condition had been so critical a court of inquiry was never able to interview him. He suffered severe burns and multiple injuries and had to have an arm amputated at the elbow.

NAACP TO SEEK NEW MEMBERS

Campaign to Commence With Services in Baptist Church

The 1954 membership campaign of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will officially get underway Sunday, Aug. 2, at services in Mt. Herman Baptist church, Stowe.

Guest speaker at the service which will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon will be the Rev. J. H. Hayes, traveling Evangelist of Philadelphia.

The Rev. Ozzie Garlington, assistant pastor at Mt. Herman church, said last night that the service will be of a literary type during which religious songs and messages will be offered.

In explaining the drive, the Rev. Garlington said the group is beginning the campaign in early August because it would like to get an early start.

He noted the meeting will be jointly sponsored by the NAACP and the Pastor's Aid. Mrs. M. Williams is president of the Pastor's Aid, while Charles Prince heads the NAACP.

Valley Forge Recital Will Feature Balazs

The welcome return of Frederic Balazs, brilliant violinist and conductor, to the Summer concerts at the Washington Memorial chapel, Valley Forge, promises an outstanding program for the fifth concert on Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Since his last appearance here Frederic Balazs has had a wide experience throughout the United States, touring as violin soloist in the South and West and conducting in Texas and Arizona as well as serving as guest conductor of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra in the Stadium the past July 4.

His circuit brings him near Valley Forge in time to contribute a recital among his many Eastern friends and admirers. Music lovers are cordially invited to hear this violinist in the beauty and mysticism of the Gothic chapel at Valley Forge.

PSFW Chapter Visits at Laurel Lake

COLLEGEVILLE—Mrs. Donald Yerkes, Cor. Phone Collegeville 5888, Kenneth Wanner, Del. Phone Collegeville 3642, Mrs. Bertha Taylor suffered a dislocated shoulder as the result of a fall. She was taken to Pottstown hospital for treatment and is recuperating at home.

Mrs. Ralph Miller, accompanied by Mrs. Harry N. Ely, Germantown, returned home from a two weeks' stay at the Hanscom hotel in Ocean City. Her son and his family, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, spent several days there also and Mrs. Miller accompanied them home.

The Collegeville chapter of the PSFW spent a day as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Beatty Rhinesmith of Laurel Lake. The hostess served luncheon, after which the host took his guests for a boat ride from one end of the lake to the other. Swimming was enjoyed during the remainder of the afternoon.

Members who attended were Mrs. Edgar Schatz, Mrs. William Stephens, Mrs. Ralph Hinkle, Mrs. Ernest Wayland, Mrs. Jonas Schreffler, Mrs. Harry Zvarick, Mrs. Irvin Gill, Mrs. E. R. Williams, Mrs. Albert Diehl, Mrs. Harry Weaver and Mrs. Joseph Campbell. Mrs. Henry Hantz of Evansburg, county president, and Mrs. Calvin Collins of Worcester, county vice president, were guests.

Due to the rainstorm, the Collegeville WCTU, which was to hold a picnic on Monday evening at Valley Forge park, enjoyed a picnic lunch at the home of Mrs. Joel Francis on Sixth avenue. A short business meeting followed, at which time the organization voted $20 to buy fruit juices for the servicemen in Korea. The hostess showed colored slides for the remainder of the evening.

Soccer and swimming have been among his athletic ventures at The Hill. During the coming school year he hopes to score in basketball and tennis. On spare hours this summer he's been working out on the Brookside Country club course.

An instrumental record collection and a rock and mineral collection which dates back six years are included in his hobbies.

He moved to Pottstown with his family from Des Moines, Ia., several years ago. Although he was born in Buenos Aires, Argentina, he doesn't remember much of the South American country. He came to the United States at the age of seven.

He'll be ready for a brief vacation by the beginning of September when the family will visit the Jersey shore.

After that it will be school again.

The Collegeville board, which met after the joint session, approved a financial statement which showed $6118 in expenditures and $20,118 in receipts. The board voted an allocation of $5400 to the joint board.

The session, which was concluded before 10 o'clock, was the shortest of the year for the board.

Asks for a Beer, Is Held for Theft

PHILADELPHIA, July 23 (AP)—A little man, leaning heavily on a cane, limped into a cafe in downtown Philadelphia just before closing time early today.

The cafe manager, Joseph Catrabone, thought the man looked familiar and when the customer said in Italian: "I want a beer" it seemed to strike a familiar chord.

As Catrabone tells it, he talked for a while with the man and he translated what the customer said into an admission that he had walked into the same cafe on April 13, with his hand jammed in his pocket as if he had a gun and forced the manager to hand over $385.

The manager said he signaled bartender Thomas McMenamin who called police. The little man was hustled off to the precinct station where he was booked on holdup and robbery charges.

He was identified as Paul Rizzo, 38, of Philadelphia and was quoted by Catrabone as telling police in Italian:

"You can't pin this thing on me. I didn't do it."

Volunteers Hunt Deaf 5-Year-Old

CONNELLVILLE, Pa., July 23.—Scores of volunteer firemen joined in the search of dense woodlands today for a 5-year-old girl who can't talk and may not be able to hear them.

The girl is Emma Bowers, mute and partially deaf daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casey Bowers; her parents say she was last seen about noon yesterday playing near the yard of her farm home several miles southwest of Connellsville.

Wearry searchers beat their way into the woods last night. They pumped two wells dry but there was no trace of the girl. The youngster was wearing only a pair of bloomers in the 90-degree heat at the time of her disappearance.

Family Makes Tour Of Southern States On Two-Week Trip

COLLEGEVILLE—Mrs. Donald Yerkes, Cor. Phone Collegeville 5888, Kenneth Wanner, Del. Phone Collegeville 3642, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Nyce, Third avenue, entertained with a lawn party honoring their daughter, Rebecca Ann, who was four years old. The guests enjoyed an afternoon of swimming and birthday refreshments. Those present were J. B. Higham, Arcola; Tommy and Carol Wargo, Jeffersonville; Dianne and Bonnie Wambold and Marie Patt, Phoenixville; Marsha Musselman, Donna Moyer, Paula Oehlert, Rayme Nyce, Julie Megay, Jerry Poley, Bonnie and Sandra Peroca, Debby Nyce and the honor guest, all of Collegeville; Rebecca's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wambold, Phoenixville, and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Nyce of Collegeville; Edith Smith of Phoenixville and the mothers of all of the children.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hunsicker entertained with a birthday dinner honoring Mrs. Paul Dry, of Parkersford. Their other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Christian Hunsicker and family, of Trappe, and Paul Dry. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Brandiff and daughter, Beverly, left for a two-weeks vacation in the Southern states. They expect to spend some time with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Landes and family, of Smyrna, Ga., former residents of this community.

C. RAYMOND Eppehimer, owner of Pottstown Auto Refinishing company, 927 High street, had a different slant: "I believe it's better than usual. Everybody apparently started earlier this time."

By "better," Eppehimer hastened to explain, he didn't mean anything less than hectic. "It always is this time," he said. "July is always much worse than January."

In January, he said, plenty of motorists don't care whether they can drive their cars or not. In July, they do.

Jack Ludwick, son of J. G. Ludwick, owner of Krause and Ludwick incorporated garage, Third and Hanover streets, said he thought that the rush, while great, "is about the same as it was last time."

Support for Ludwick's view came from Jeffersonville State police, who said that auto inspections in Montgomery county are running just about even with previous inspection periods.

torist was arrested this past Feb. 14 by Sgt. Thomas A. Lawler at Hanover and King streets, and charged with disorderly conduct and assault and battery by automobile.

On Feb. 24 the charges were dismissed by Kelley who contended disorderly conduct had not been shown.

SPIEZIO was arrested this past month for operating on West High street while his Pennsylvania license was suspended.

His driving privileges were suspended this past April 9. He was arrested by Reading State police for driving 80 miles per hour on Route 422.

The hearing had been continued because Mars was on vacation.

Man Is Arrested For Bad Conduct

A Pottstown man was committed to the borough lockup early this morning on a disorderly conduct charge.

Albert McKinney, 25, of 502 Manatwny street, will be given a hearing before Second Ward Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelly at 6:45 o'clock tonight.

The warrant was sworn out by James Castrinoes, operator of Crummy restaurant, 108 South Hanover street.

McKinney was arrested by Motor Patrolman Paul I. Galloway and Patrolman William A. Mars at 12:48 a. m.

Slightly Different Here, Senora Learns

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 23 (AP)—A Mexican senora learned the hard way that American letter boxes are green, not red, as in Mexico.

Police said she spotted a red "letter" box and pulled the hook. Instead of finding the letter slot, she soon heard screaming sirens and saw fire trucks.

After explaining her mistake to firemen, police then asked to see her passport. She had none. She was booked on suspicion of illegal entry into this country.

S. Paul Seeders Confined to Bed With Bad Leg Infection

S. Paul "Tosh" Seeders, Maple Manor, North Charlotte street, one of Pottstown's best-known fraternalists, whose right leg was amputated in 1950, was bedfast at his home yesterday with an infection of his other leg.

The left leg has become inflamed from the knee down. He was forced to give up work at his beer distributing business and go to bed Monday. The leg was to be exposed continuously to the air.

Seeders reported that physicians have told him that the inflammation is improving, but slowly.

Before the amputation three years ago, Seeders was in the hospital six weeks, suffering from a diabetic condition. An infection developing in the foot forced the amputation.

Among Seeders' service to local fraternal groups was 15 years as secretary of the Elks lodge. He also has been active as a leader of Masonic organizations. He once was Republican candidate for council in the Eighth ward.

A SURVEY of Park drive residents taken by The Mercury this past June 26 pointed to one conclusion.

Residents do not like the lots in their present condition.

Homeowners then said they don't care who has custody of the properties as long as weeds are cut and they are converted into playgrounds.

Residents agreed Davidheiser promised playground and park dries of Montgomery county areas on the three properties when they purchased their homes.

The builder told The Mercury the lots are worth approximately $6000.

Exactly how the new plan would affect the legislative boundaries of Montgomery county cannot be foreseen as yet. There is a possibility that it will give the Pottstown area a representative in the Assembly.

Such a move may give Pottstown its first hometown representative since Attorney John H. Longaker held the post about 14 years ago.

Long-Awaited Truce Appears Ready; Agreement Reported on Signing Date

MUNSAN, Korea, Friday, July 24 (AP)—The long-awaited Korean armistice appeared imminent today—possibly within three days on the basis of persistent reports bolstered by a Red broadcast intimating that the final document was ready.

The reports of a quick signing date lacked official confirmation from either side, but the Pyongyang North Korean radio said:

"It appears that preparations for a truce signing at Panmunjom have been virtually completed."

The broadcast went on to cite evidence to indicate that all—or nearly all—the preliminaries had been taken care of. However, it coupled this with an aside warning against possible further South Korean opposition.

THE CHINESE RED radio in Peiping chimed in today with a similar but more guarded broadcast.

The Peiping announcer said preparations for signing "appeared to be nearing completion as official outcries of the Syngman Rhee government to obstruct an armistice rose in crescendo."

He added that "the greatest vigilance is yet needed" and "realization of an armistice depends more than ever on whether the American side will make good its recent assurances in the face of Rhee and his henchmen's fresh outbursts."

The Chinese also mentioned Thursday's meetings "to work out remaining administrative details."

Allied sources were more chary. Authoritative quarters in the Allied truce camp at Munsan said one or two minor points remained to be settled and one or two more meetings of staff officers at the Panmunjom conference site might be required before a signing date could be fixed.

THESE ALLIED sources conceded, however, that the few remaining matters could be quickly decided. There was strong unconfirmed speculation that a tentative signing date already had been mentioned in the secret Panmunjom sessions Thursday.

The special staff officers group was called into meeting at 11 a. m.

today (10 p. m. Pottstown time Thursday). This was the group which had been reported working on arrangements for exchanging prisoners of war.

The North Korean radio, in a broadcast late Thursday night, said that staff officers apparently had completed drawing the buffer zone to separate the rival armies and also apparently had completed translating the armistice text into English, Chinese and Korean.

CHINESE SMASH SOUTH KOREANS OFF THREE HILLS

Reds Gain Summit In Hand-to-Hand Fighting

SEOUL, Friday, July 24 (AP)—Chinese Reds smashed South Koreans off three hills and three outposts in Central Korea Thursday in bloody hand-to-hand fighting and attacked two outposts in the West.

One hill and the three outposts were seized northwest of Kumhwa, a road hub 35 miles northwest of Seoul. The two other hills were seized southwest of a bend in the Kumsong river where a big Red offensive the past week flattened out a 20-mile-wide bulge in the line.

The Republic of Korea (ROK) troops first attacked Sam Hyon hill southwest of a bend in the Kumsong river hurling grenades during the ascent. Switching to bayonets, knives and clubbed rifles, they reached the top but were beaten off.

Two hours later, the Reds reinforced to a strength of more than 350 and pounded the ROKs back down the slope.

Armed Services Accused of Hiding Evidence of Waste, Mismanagement

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—House investigators today accused the armed services of trying to hide evidence of waste and mismanagement under a "ridiculous" system of secrecy and red tape.

Whether by accident or design, a House Government Operations subcommittee reported, "a system exists which acts as a deterrent to getting at the facts of particular cases."

In a report raking over "needlessly inefficient" military purchasing and supply operations, the subcommittee said:

"The efforts of congressional committees have been impeded due to procedures and policies on the part of the military services which prevent disclosures of fact on the basis of 'privilege' and 'secrecy.'"

"While the subcommittee respects the need to classify information affecting the national security, it condemns and rejects the classification of matters which have nothing to do with the national security, as well as the withholding of information designated as 'privileged.'"

THE SUBCOMMITTEE, under the chairmanship of Representative Riehlman (R-NY), recommended that Secretary of Defense Wilson review all the regulations which "inhibit or obstruct free and full access to information by congressional committees" and authorized agencies.

The denunciation of military cover-up practices was contained in a report on the purchase of material alleged to be useless or unneeded.

Among other things the committee cited what it termed:

1. A navy purchase of "useless" forklift trucks for $3 million from a company without prior experience in making anything more complicated than garden equipment.

2. A $45 million Army purchase in 1946 of overcoats, "bought in haste to prevent appropriated funds from reverting to the treasury at a time when there was no need for the coats, which later were found to be unsuitable." The Army has insisted the coats were good ones and were put to good use.

North Korean Dictator Reported Fired In Communist Government Shakeup

SEOUL, Friday, July 24 (AP)—Sung was his uncle, a bandit leader who fought the Japanese occupation for years.

He took his uncle's name when he came back to Korea in 1945.

Kim was one of 36 men brought into North Korea by the Soviets that year to organize the North Korean satellite state. He became chairman of the Central People's government there in February, 1946. A month later, he was named general secretary of North Korean branch headquarters of the Korean Communist party.

In August, 1946, he and Kim Doo Bong were elected co-chairmen of the new labor party then being formed in North Korea.

In 1947, when the United States and the USSR held a joint commission session, Kim Il Sung was representative of the North Korean Labor party. In the event he does show up at the armistice signing, Allied officers will be interested in seeing if he is the same person they saw at the 1947 Pyongyang meeting.

"KIM, ALSO" commander in chief of North Korea's Red army, is known in South Korea as "the impostor" because his real name is Kim Song Ju. The real Kim Il

Informant Reports Hunters' Remains Found Under Floor of Logging Camp

GASPE, Que., July 23 (AP)—An informant close to official investigators said tonight the remains of two missing American hunters have been found under the floor of an old logging camp.

The informant said the remains were "in the same condition" as those of Eugene H. Lindsey, 45, the search and the police investigation of Hollidaysburg, parts of his gation. Then he drove out of Gaspe skeleton were found the past week toward the bush area.

Provincial police here would not immediately confirm or deny the informant's statement.

It was reported the logging camp is about three miles farther into the bush than the spot where last seen alive—the search had Lindsey's remains were found. Lindsey's 17-year-old son, Richard, and Fred Clair, 20, came with the older man from Hollidaysburg the past month to hunt bear. The three were last seen alive June 12.

WITH ALL THREE bodies apparently accounted for, the informant said, an arrest appeared imminent but no indication was given who the suspect might be.

Earlier, in Quebec, a police official disclosed that a discovery important to the case had been made and a major break could be expected within 24 hours.

"It is possible," said the official in close touch with the Gaspe investigation which so far has definitely brought the recovery of the headless skeleton of one of the hunters — Eugene H. Lindsey, 45.

"It is also possible that something different was found," the officer said.

"All I can say at this time is that the discovery at Gaspe is a step forward in our inquiry in which developments now are happening quickly."

IT WAS SIGNIFICANT that for the first time since the skeleton of one of the hunters was found the past week, newspapermen were forbidden to make the 65-mile trip into the bush country.

Early today, with fog, rain and mist shrouding the Gaspe hills, Capt. J. Alphonse Matte, top-notch investigator for Quebec Provincial police, arrived

Gals in Tight Slacks Barred From Prison

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 23 (AP)—There'll be no more gals in tight fitting slacks and shorts at Sunday baseball games in the Tennessee State prison.

The edict was handed down today by Warden James Edwards. His explanation:

"We had an important game with Lebanon the past Sunday. A lady visitor wearing well-fitted tailored slacks was on the sidelines. My outfielders missed seven straight fly balls."

The lady with the fancy pants left midway of the game. Then the warden's boys went on to defeat Lebanon 7-0.

Recent Bride Mrs. Wilbert S. Sharp Reveals Her Tricks With Salads And Cheeses and Barbecues to Rank Among Pottstown's Cool Cooks

By SONIA CIMBALISTA
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Married in September, Mrs. Wilbert S. Sharp, Bearcraft apartments, Sanatoga, is experiencing her first Summer as a cook and frankly admits that she doesn't know what she would do without her faithful cookbook and mother.

Salads are at the head of her Summer menu and because her father owns a farm, she can get lots of fresh vegetables when they are in season.

"I specialize in three different types of salads," she listed. "My favorite is tossed salad, although I also make garden and fruit salads.

"Here's my tossed salad recipe. First I cut tomatoes in chunks and place them in my bowl.

"Then I cut peppers and lettuce in small pieces and finally add sliced cucumbers.

"Because you get some juice from the cutting of the vegetables, be careful about the amount of vinegar and oil you add," she concluded.

Until recently, Mrs. Sharp has been working as a telephone operator with the Bell company.

"I have leave of absence," she blushing smiled. "You see, I'm expecting a baby in December."

She continued, "My husband and I were discussing the names we might call it. My husband wants a boy, but I think you can dress little girls so cute.

"I want a name that is unusual and so far, we've narrowed it down to two names, Melody, if it's a girl, and Keith if it's a boy."

"The only trouble standing in our way is another name that will go with Melody."

Mrs. Sharp doesn't mind the heat in her apartment, which she has cooled with an awning on each window. There are big shade trees around the house besides, so that the Sharps have a breeze blowing through the windows continuously.

"Even though it is hot, my husband and I like to have something hot during a meal," admitted Mrs. Sharp. "Our favorite is potato soup; it's so easy to make."

Mr. Sharp works from 11:30 p. m. until 7:15 a. m. at the Doehler plant.

His wife recalls that before she stopped working, she used to see him coming in while she was going out and vice versa.

"Because of his job, we have little time to do anything," Mrs. Sharp frowned seriously, "and a terrible situation is when you can't think what to do with your husband when he does have the time, so I don't let cooking take up too many hours."

In the Sharp household, there is a favorite recipe for filled peppers that rouses the appetite of both Sharps.

Because there are only two of them, the spry young housewife cums the recipe, but for the benefit of other Pottstown cooks, she gives the recipe as it would serve six.

She takes one pound of ground hamburger and adds an egg so that it will be easier to work with.

To this she puts 2 cups of uncooked rice, 4 tablespoons of diced onions and three cups tomatoes.

"Then, of course, add your salt and pepper to taste. Stuff and cook for one hour," she concluded.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Sharp had plans for a career and spent very little time practicing the chores of a housewife.

After one semester of college, however, she stated, "we decided that college wasn't for me and I should be a housewife."

By "we," Mrs. Sharp referred to her husband and herself.

Hot shopping days are made easy for the bright eyed housewife who lives very close to a self-service market and takes advantage of it.

"When it comes time for a cool refresher," Mrs. Sharp smiled and said, "We always have the good old fashioned iced tea or lemonade." They also favor fruit juices.

"You hear a lot of people complaining about how to prepare leftover meats. I've solved that problem with a delicious treat," continued Mrs. Sharp.

"It is a recipe for a sandwich spread. You take one cup of cold meat and add a hard-boiled egg. To this mixture you place a cup of raw grated carrots, 1/2 cup of mayonnaise and 1/2 teaspoon of salt, with a dash of pepper. You can spread it with lettuce on top."

During her spare time, Mrs. Sharp sews a great deal for her mother and sister.

She admitted that she'd rather sew for someone else than for herself.

"You can fit them up better," she said.

"Oh yes, I'm learning to crochet. My first item is an edge for a handkerchief. And my teacher told me I was doing pretty well also," she exclaimed.

"I like reading too," she continued, "especially the historical novels with interesting backgrounds."

For other extra-curricular activities, Mrs. Sharp says she will be "in-active" until after her baby.

Right now she is a member of St. Peter's Lutheran church. Stowe.

"So far I've had success in most of my meals, but there were times when some didn't turn out the way I had expected," she said, returning to her culinary prowess.

"The first meal that I made was fried, but I don't remember what it was. Now that I think of it, I rely on a handy gadget that I couldn't do without."

She got it as a shower gift before her marriage. It's a cast iron pan with a glass top that she says is "marvelous" for frying without getting your wallpaper and walls spattered.

"Now that I have more time on my hands, I've decided to try as many new recipes as I can. The heat doesn't bother me when I cook."

Mrs. Sharp's father has a farm in Birdsboro and very often over weekends the family packs up and heads for the county.

"My husband works in the field with the chickens and I putter around in the garden. Just last week we had a doggie roast," she recalled.

"When you don't want wieners you can use hamburgers, and I have a barbecue recipe that will make a few mouths water, I think," she said.

Mix mustard with horseradish, about 1 teaspoon to 1 pound of ground meat, then add marjoram, thyme, monosodium glutamate, salt, pepper, chopped green onion, chopped green pepper and chopped parsley to taste.

"Shape your mixture into patties and put them on the grill for 15 to 25 minutes," advises the cook.

"These hamburgers are to be eaten with a fork and not between buns, so you can be generous with the meat."

When it's summertime, it's time for corn on the cob in the Sharp home, Mrs. Sharp believes. Both husband and wife like it a great deal.

"My husband enjoys swimming and can spend the day in the water to cool off—but not me, I prefer to lie in the sun and get a nice even tan," the recent bride declared.

Nodding her pert, honey colored head, Mrs. Sharp added that on Saturdays she and her husband try to think of something different to do each evening.

They don't have a car, but her husband has a good friend with whom they double date.

Usually, they play miniature golf, go to the drive-in movies or attend block parties.

For entertaining—regardless of the degree of formality—Mrs. Sharp has a very favorite menu, which she believes is especially appropriate for warm, Summer evenings when neighbors come to call.

Upon the buffet she sets bacon fondue en casserole, molded tomato aspic, celery stalks, dill pickle strips, light and dark rye breads.

Here is how she makes the fondue, which requires 8 slices of white bread, 3 tablespoons soft butter, 8 thin slices sharp cheese, 3 eggs, 1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, salt and pepper, 1 bottle of beer and 1/2 pound bacon, cooked crisp.

SALADS—TOSSED OR FRUIT are the favorite answers which Mrs. Wilbert S. Sharp, above, likes to fling at her kitchen stove. Although a bride of less than a year, Mrs. Sharp has compiled a long list of culinary tricks, with the help of her cookbook and her mother. Along with salads, outdoor meals cooked at her father's farm rank as the young housewife's pet Summer menus. In the accompanying story, Mrs. Sharp describes how she tosses a lettuce leaf and turns a grilled hamburger, hoping her dishes will help other Pottstonians live out a cooler Summer. And Mrs. Sharp confided in the reporter who interviewed her that she'll be watching the "cool cook" columns in The Mercury for hints from helpful neighbors to make her own hot-weather domestic duties even cooler. —Mercury Staff Photo

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

Quiet Nuptials Celebrated in Grace Lutheran Unite Ruth Jean Carter and Charles T. Molzen

Ruth Jean Carter and Charles T. Molzen were married recently in a small quiet service performed with family and close friends present.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Edgar S. Brown.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Morris E. Carl, Spring City RD 1.

The groom is the son of the late Mrs. Lottie Molzen, Pottstown RD 1.

Decorations in the church were Summer flowers arranged at the sides of the altar.

Music at the service was supplied by the church organist.

Worn by the bride for the ceremony was a yellow net ballerina-length gown, over taffeta.

An inset of white brocade extended from the waist down to the hem of the bouffant skirt.

The gown had a high neck and a Peter Pan collar at its top.

The bride wore a small white hat with rhinestones and seed pearls.

A red rosebud corsage ornamented the gown and completed the bride's costume.

Mrs. Kenneth Jacob, 20 East Third street, was the matron of honor.

She was gowned in a blue street-length dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow flowers.

Best man for the groom was Kenneth Jacob.

A reception was held in the Wedge inn, Douglassville, for a few friends and relatives.

The inn is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jamison, friends of the bride and groom.

Mother of the bride attended the service wearing a black print on white background dress with white accessories. She had a corsage of mixed flowers.

A wedding trip to Niagara Falls for one week is planned by the couple. The bride has not as yet chosen her going-away costume.

The couple now resides at Pottstown RD 1.

Graduated from Spring City High school, the bride works at the Spring City Knitting mill.

Her husband attended Pottstown High school and is employed at Doehler-Jarvis.

Anna Mae Heckrote and Richard E. Boyer Marry in Maryland

Anna Mae Heckrote, Birdsboro, Pa., and Richard E. Boyer, Pottstown, Pa., exchanged nuptial promises during a ceremony conducted in Elkton, Md., last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Heckrote, Birdsboro, Pa., are the parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyer, 11 Bird street, Pottstown.

Officiating at the morning ceremony was the Rev. Percival Lambert, an Evangelist minister. Witnessing the marriage were the parents of the bride and the parents of the groom.

For her wedding dress, the bride selected a wedding dress of pink and white tulle with a full skirt. Made of organza, it had a full skirt and a long train.

Under the influence of the ceremony, the bride wore a long veil of white. She carried a white bag to match her white gloves and shoes.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride elected to wear a gown of blue and white polka dots with a hat in blue and white bag and shoes.

Most of the guests were at the ceremony. The ceremony was held in a street length afternoon at the home of the bride's parents.

After the service, the wedding party drove to Reading, where they held a small marriage supper at the Crystal restaurant.

No honeymoon was scheduled as the groom had to return to his Army camp the day after the wedding.

At present, he is a private in the United States Army and is stationed at Camp Pickett in Virginia.

Mrs. Kenneth Jacob Hangs Pink and White Bows, Bells in Home To Fete Her New Sister-in-Law at a Surprise Wedding Shower

Mrs. Kenneth Jacob entertained at a surprise bridal shower in her home at 20 East Third street to honor her new sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles T. Molzen, Pottstown, Pa.

Pink and white were used throughout the decorations, which featured a sprinkling can covered with white crepe paper and tied with a large pink bow.

One can spouted streamers which led to the table on which the bride's gifts were piled.

Twin wedding bells, also tied in pink bows and showers of streamers, were suspended above the buffet table.

Among the guests who attended were: Isabelle Harbo, Mrs. W. L. Moyer, Florence Zeigler, Mrs. Daniel Egolf, Mr. Wellington Smith.

Mrs. Paul Lepore, Mrs. Clarence Zeigler, Mrs. Morris Care, Elsie Seifer, Mrs. Douglas Snyder, Mrs. Oscar Hausman, Mrs. Douglas Bender, Mrs. Donald Erb, Mrs. Ralph Edinger, Mrs. William Britton and Mrs. Fred Jamison.

Gifts were sent by Mrs. Joseph Gehr and Mrs. Raymond Eiser.

One-Year-Old Is Feted At Party by Her Parents

Lucie Cheryl Mauger, Pottstown, Pa., was honored at a party in her home last night in honor of her first birthday.

One single candle lighted her white cake, trimmed with pink flowers and green leaves, but Cheryl didn't manage to blow out the flame before her fourth puff. Moreover, she forgot to make a wish.

Green and pink crepe paper adorned the parlor and not cups of the colors marked the places at the table.

Present at the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moyer and son, Clay Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Mauger and children, Rita and Richard, and Mr. and Mrs. Darien Smith.

Plenty of Pottstonians Find Backyards Can Be Fine Vacation Settings

Despite occasional twinges of a boy and girl, swimming at Sun-nybrook or Montgomery park, many towards friends with all-nybrook or Montgomery park. Summer country houses, plenty of Pottstonians have forsaken town area has several excellent golf links, and he hopes to knock from five to ten points off his score before the end of September.

The Houcks have three little girls, one of them not quite a year old, and their mother finds them easier to care for at home than at any temporary seaside bungalow.

Nearby watering places solve the vacation problem for Mrs. John Koury, 15 South Price street, and her three youngsters. They especially favor Montgomery County park for swimming.

"Besides," confided Mrs. Koury, "we have a plastic kiddies' pool in our yard — and there are plenty of times when I just go out and sit in it myself."

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kemp, for example, find the Pottstown area the ideal place to indulge their favorite Summer-time pastimes, swimming and golf.

The Kemps reside at Diamond court, and almost every day Mrs. Kemp takes her two youngsters,

Mr. Mauger is a supervisor at the Spring City Knitting mills, and his wife has taken a Summer job as a stenographer at Doehler's.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mauger, 30 North Keim street, have an extra busy vacation time schedule.

They pepper their Summer months with frequent short trips to New York, and to the mountain shore cabins of friends.

While, at home, they are the outside of their house have a big yard, Mrs. Mauger, where she finds it pleasant that they wouldn't think of leaving home.

Mr. Moyer's pride is a brick barbecue pit, where he spends warm Summer evenings broiling steaks, hamburgers, turkeys and chops over coals.

Brightly painted lounge chairs of wood are scattered beneath the three large, shady trees in the Moyer yard, and Mrs. Moyer spends hot afternoons catching up on her reading and knitting as she relaxes in one of them.

Mary Will, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Will, Douglassville RD 1, thanks her neighbors for much of her at-home vacation fun.

She spends her afternoons swimming in the pool across the road, and, enthuses the 18-year-old, "it has wonderful shade trees all around it, so it's always cool."

All of the Russells enjoy just "sitting and relaxing" in the fresh air all Summer long, possibly sipping at tall, iced drinks.

With a large, concrete swimming pool, they feel no need to leave home at vacation time in search of diversion.

Their pool is always cool, as it is fed by a mountain creek.

In addition, they have an outdoor barbecue pit around which they hold numerous picnics for their family and friends.

Mrs. Wynne said that the most enthusiastic swimmer in the family is her 20-month-old son, Gregory, who loves the water.

She herself prefers to go in just enough to cool off after tanning herself in the sun.

Besides the pool, the Wynnes have several spring houses for cooling purposes, if the temperature soars too high.

Not a private pool but the Manatawny creek answers the Summer swim question for Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hansen, who live along Manatawny drive.

"It's so close to home," said Mrs. Hansen, "that too many folks just don't appreciate what a fine swimming hole it is—or what a fine place for just sitting and dangling your feet in the water."

Most Pottstonians are grateful, too, for the assorted organizational and church picnics, wiener roasts, outings and other activities that help them keep active and interested all Summer long.

FUN AT HOME, aquatically speaking, is demonstrated above by, from left, Barbara Pusch and Naomi Eagle. Hoses, feel the girls, can be as refreshing as ocean waves, and they prove it. Other Pottstonians find that local watering spots, private pools, kiddies' wading containers and even bathtubs make acceptable substitutes for the sea shore. Some find their at-home Summers the ideal time to catch up on reading and hobbies. Others practice their putting or spend long afternoons fishing in the Manatawny.

+++ WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES +++

Women of the Moose Officers and Committee Heads Make Plans for Activities During the Coming Year

Committee chairmen and officers of the Women of the Moose gathered last night to plan activities for the coming year.

They read all the instructions forwarded to them by Moosehart. It was suggested in the instructions that the homemaking committee sponsor a food sale and arts and crafts.

Suggested for the ritual committee were posture awards to be given out in the schools.

Another project mentioned was a "come as you are" party. A bazaar in November and a festival in May were also possible ideas.

Four ideas in all were suggested for each committee.

Past officers committee will meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur Clouser, 44 West Third street, Monday at 8 p. m.

Sunday the officers of the chapter will go to Lancaster for a conference on the revisions to be made in the hand books of procedure. They will leave at 12:30 p. m.

Committee chairmen are: Ruth Ulrich, Moosehart; Mrs. William McClain, publicity; Mrs. Raymond Seyler, Moosehart; and Mrs. Alvin Mogel, ritual.

Mrs. Harry Nagengast, social service; Mrs. Michael Hospodar, sunshine; and Mrs. William Beckley, flower.

Mrs. Paul Kennedy is the senior regent. Junior graduate regent is Mrs. Wayne Lender. Junior regent is Edith Flannan. (Continued on Page Twenty-one)

Flowers and Birthday Cake Decorate Table at 11th Natal Party Held by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Herb for Their Daughter Maryanne

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Herb, 480 Spruce street, celebrated the eleventh birthday of their daughter, Maryanne, at a party Wednesday.

Asbury Bible Class Has Annual Watermelon Party

Eighteen members of the Asbury Bible class of the First Methodist church, gathered at the home of Mrs. Francis Holmes, Douglassville, for their annual watermelon party.

Each member brought her own plate, to facilitate the watermelon eating. Those who forgot were supplied by the hostess.

After partaking of the melon, class members sang old, new and traditional songs.

They then played bingo.

Next meeting is scheduled for late in August. It will be a wiener and corn roast.

QUEEN AT MADISON

Candlelight Nuptials Unite Patricia Ann Orandosh and Robert Mauger

By the light of burning altar candles, Patricia Ann Orandosh became the bride of Robert Mauger both of South Pottstown, in a quiet July ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. John Orandosh, 22 West Main street, South Pottstown, are the parents of the bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mauger, 314 Elm street, South Pottstown.

St. John's Lutheran church South Pottstown, was the setting of the wedding ceremony. White flowers were mingled with the lighted tapers to decorate the altar for the service.

Officiating at the double ring rites was the Rev. George F. Eichorn, pastor. About 25 guests attended the quiet ceremony.

For her walk down the aisle of the church, the bride selected a pure silk gown of pale pink. It was fashioned with a low round neckline cut into the fitted bodice which buttoned to the waist. The sleeves were elbow length and ended in cuffs.

Beneath the waistline, the full skirt fell to street length, and the bride wore pale pink slippers to match her gown.

To match the rest of her costume, her hat was a pink halo which sported an eyelash veil. Around her throat she clasped a single strand choker of rhinestones. Her gloves were white and featured deep cuffs of white lace.

The bride carried an old-fashioned bouquet of mixed flowers, centered with an orchid and tied with a shower of narrow satin streamers. Knotted with bits of fern and flowers.

Acting as the maid of honor was Gloria Barndt.

She selected for her robe a street length frock of pale blue silk. It was made with a wide scoop neckline highlighting its fitted bodice and elbow length sleeves. Her skirt was full and exhibited her slippers of matching blue silk.

Like the bride, she carried a mixed bouquet in white-gloved hands.

Standing alongside the bride-coast, they spent several days at a honeymoon along the New Jersey coast. They spent several days at Pottstown Atlantic City and Cape May.

To travel the bride chose a go-go. After the ceremony, a reception was held in Hanover house restaurant. At her throat she tied a flowered red scarf.

Later, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon along the New Jersey coast. They spent several days at Pottstown Atlantic City and Cape May.

She attended North Coventry High school and is employed by the Feroe Box factory as a secretary.

He is serving in the Army and is stationed at Atlanta, Ga.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT MAUGER, above, are pictured as they return down the aisle after exchanging wedding vows in St. John's Lutheran church, South Pottstown. Before her marriage, the bride was Patricia Ann Orandosh. After a reception in Hanover House restaurant, the newlyweds left for a shore honeymoon. They stayed at Atlantic City and Cape May, N. J. Now they are making their home with the groom's parents at 314 Elm street. Next week, the groom will leave for his Army camp near Atlanta, Ga. His bride will join him in September.

Pink and Blue Set the Color Scheme in Parkerford Home at Stork Shower for Mrs. Douglas Willauer

Mrs. Douglas Willauer was the guest of honor at a stork shower held by her sister-in-law, Sandra Willauer, at the Willauer home in Parkerford Wednesday.

Pink and blue trimmings adorned the party rooms, and centered on the buffet table was a large cake trimmed in pink and blue frosting.

Robert Yarmush and Stanley Yarmush.

Janice Wadsworth, Isaac Wadsworth, Mary Wadsworth, Shirley Wadsworth, Elva Bailey, Siella Poweil.

Lady Reindeer Meeting Held to Install Pair of Officers, Plan Activities for Year; New Committee Members Also Announced

Lady Reindeer met Wednesday evening with the new president, Bertie Krammes, presiding.

Supreme Past president, Viola Arch and Right Aide, Mable Bower, were installed during the meeting, because of their absence from the installation ceremony two weeks ago.

The new president announced the committee members for the following year and plans for various activities were discussed.

Members of the ways and means committee are: Dorothy Law, chairman; Mabel Bower, Viola Arch and Lillian Ginder.

On Wednesday, July 29, the group will have drill practice at the O of IA building.

The degree team will meet in the home of Anna Kennedy, New street, Aug. 18.

Pigs-in-the-box were won by Marguerite Seiler, Eva Fizz and Helen Hohl.

Special prizes were won by Freda Steeley and Nancy Right-nour.

Taking care of the publicity end will be Freda Steeley. Arranging for flowers for the sick will be Elsie Beekley. Boaster is Ada Beekley.

Working with her will be Margaret Noecker, Ruth Ulrich, Elsie Beekley, Grace Kulp, Helen Dunlap, Florence Matthews, Freda Steeley, Cathrine Cellars, Helen Hohl.

Plans were made for the annual banquet to be held October 10 at the West End Fire company.

Committee in charge of arrangements will be headed by Bertie Krammes.

With her are Mable Bower, Dorothy Law, Lillian Ginder, Viola Arch, Eva Fizz, Cathrine Cellars and Helen Dunlap.

Recent Bride Mrs. Wilbert Sharp Tells Her Tricks With Salads And Cheeses to Rank Among the List of Pottstown's Cool Cooks

Then she bakes it in a moderate oven for 40 minutes, or until well brown, and tops it with the bacon.

Even more informal, added Mrs. Sharp, is to make the fondue using the same ingredients above, minus the bread, and dicing the cheese so that it will melt.

Then, after thoroughly mixed and melted, the fondue should be left bubbling in a chafing dish for guests to dunk their crackers.

And for something different in flavors, sometimes Mrs. Sharp replaces the usual sharp cheddar with a mild American, or provolone cheese but adds several large cubes of tangy Roquefort or gorgonzola.

In this case, she advises, a four-ounce glass of dry vermouth should be used instead of beer.

"My husband is as good a cook as I am," boasts exclaims Mrs. Sharp.

"He used to own a small lunch canteen and he knows how to make many dishes. As a matter of fact, I learned a lot from him."

"One of my favorite dishes is chicken pot pie. He could eat that twice a week and still love it."

Although young and just starting on the road of cooking, Mrs. Sharp hopes she has made a good stand to help her rank as one of Pottstown's "cool cooks."

Yerger Hurls 3-Hitter

Amvets Overwhelm Jacobs, 10-0, in CIL

Table with 2 columns: Player, Stats. Rows include UAW 644, Place, Amvets, Jacobs, etc.

Amvets had an economical first inning — one hit, four runs — and then scored six more tallies in orthodox fashion to defeat Jacobs, last night 10-0, in the City Industrial league.

The victory brought an end to the Vets three-game losing streak and assures them of at least a tie for a third place finish.

Bob Yerger, taking a holiday from the shingard and mask department, posted his second mound win of the season on a three hitter.

Jacobs had manpower to burn last night but it wasn't until Am-vets had all its runs that the right blend was stirred up by manager Stan Wayock.

Shortstop George Clayton had all kinds of trouble for Jacobs in the first inning. The Vets leadoff hitter, Jack Kurtz slapped a grounder directly at Clayton but he bobbled the ball and Kurtz was safe. With Norm Sundstrom batting, Kurtz stole second.

SUNDSTROM then bounced to Clayton and again George was too hasty and dropped the ball. He picked it up and threw late to third, trying to catch Kurtz who slid in safely.

The league's top hitter, Harry Anderson helped his average with a smash through Joe Ciori at third to drive in Kurtz. Anderson also had another hit in the third inning and finished the game with a .447 batting average.

Don Boughter made his first start of the season on the Final Inspection

Halt Cleaners, 17-11

Final Inspection defeated Aluminum Cleaning, 17-11, last night in a free scoring Doehler Jarvis league game that saw a homer, a triple, and seven doubles hammered out.

The Cleaners started the scoring in the top of the second with three runs. They pushed across one more in the third, but Final Inspection came to life in the bottom of that inning, and scored four,
tying up the game.

From then on, homeplate didn't get much rest, as the Cleaners came back with two in the fourth, but were outscored again in that inning when the Inspectors punched across seven more runs to give themselves a five-run lead.

FINAL INSPECTION outdid the Cleaners, 4-2, in the fifth, and added two more in the sixth, while the Cleaners remained scoreless.

In the last inning, the Cleaners scored three, but it just wasn't enough.

George Keller, Inspector's shortstop, had a homer. Andy Kriczky, playing the same position for the Cleaners, banged out a double and a triple. Fazekas, of Final Inspection, had two doubles, and Ron Mauger, Cleaners' first baseman, duplicated the feat. Hal Endy, of Final Inspection, and Chris Baum, of the Al. Cleaners, both had doubles.

Trinity Tops Coventry Brethren, 4-2, for 2d League Win

Table with 2 columns: Player, Stats. Rows include Trinity, Coventry Brethren, etc.

Trinity scored its second win of the season last night in the Sunday School league, defeating Coventry Brethren, 4-2. It was the third time this week the underdog came through with a victory in the league.

Trinity gained an early two-run lead but single runs by Coventry in the fourth and sixth innings tied the score.

The winners then went to work to take advantage of three CB errors to tally a pair of markers in the bottom of the sixth.

Fred Harvey opened the frame by grounding to Franny Wampler.

John Shaner's grounder was played into a fielder's choice as the throw home trying to catch Edmonds was not in time. Harvey and Hiddeman followed with singles to load the bases.

Wampler hit Jim Bartoli to force in another run and he was replaced in the pitcher's box by Goss, who finished the game by allowing only two more hits the rest of the way. He struck out Wayne Hughes to end the inning.

Trinity got away to a fast start as Vaughn Edmonds, first batter for his team, was nipped by a pitched ball. He stole second and was balked to third by Franny Wampler, who started the game on the hill for Coventry.

Eight runs in the second inning, and nine in the third, turned what started out to be a softball game into a runaway, as the Pottstown Cardinalettes blanked Our Lady of Peace by the football score of 19-0 last night in Monocacy field.

Jane Moore, losing pitcher for Our Lady of Peace, was blasted for 14 hits in three innings, as homers by Mary Jane Delp, who drove in three runs, and Lois Adams, who brought in four, turned the game into a rout.

A newcomer to the Cardinalettes, Miss Hawthorne, drove in one run, while her teammate, Miss McComsey, another new name on

JEANNIE HECHT, Cardinalette hurler, extended herself in striking out nine, walking none, and yielding only two hits.

The one-sided victory brings the Cardinalettes' wins up to 24 for this season.

Indians Trounce Yankees, 10-2, For 6th in Row Over Champs

CLEVELAND, July 23 (P)—While Strickland's homers after Rosen had lofted his 25th homer of the year over the left field fence, Easter reached first to six hits today to give Cleveland a sweep of the 3 game series, 10-2. It was the Tribe's sixth straight victory over New York.

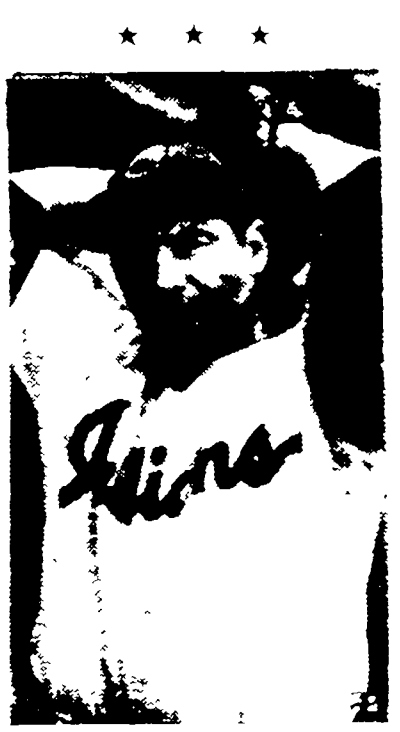

Despite the loss, the Yanks remained 4 games ahead of the second place Chicago White Sox who bowed to the Boston Red Sox 4-2. The Indians moved to within eight games of the Yanks and to within 3 of Chicago.

Big Luke Easter, Al Rosen and George Strickland got home runs for the home team. Yogi Berra's 2 run homer in the eighth accounted for New York's pair.

Wynn who won his tenth game of the season and his second over New York, got in on the slugging. He drove in a run in the fifth with a single and another in the sixth with a double. He walked five and struck out seven.

Tom Gorman, the bespectacled Yankee right hander who was making his first start of the season, was the loser. As a reliever, he had appeared in 22 games and had a 3-2 record until today.

The Tribe's big inning came in the sixth off Art Shallock, when they batted around and, after two were out, scored five runs on four hits—which included Rosen's and

PITTSBURGH, July 23 (P)—Jake Mintz, co-manager of Ex-zard Charles, charged today that a "grave injustice" was done the former heavyweight champion when Roland LaStarza was matched to fight champion Rocky Marciano.

Mintz made the charge in a telegram to Robert K. Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission, requesting a public hearing.

Mintz said he wants assurance that the winner of the LaStarza-Marciano title bout Sept. 24 will meet Charles. He said Christenberry has not yet granted him a hearing.

Redlegs Beat Pirates As All But 2 Get Hits

PITTSBURGH, July 23 (P)—Harry Perkowski, 30-year old Cincinnati Redlegs' southpaw, blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-0 on eight hits today for his eighth victory of the year.

Outfielder Jim Greengrass batted across three of the Redlegs runs with a bases loaded single in the first and a double in the fifth. Willard Marshall's triple accounted for two other runs in the initial frame and shelled starter Murry Dickson from the mound. Dickson absorbed his 13th loss.

Rocky Bridges hit his first homer of the campaign in the fifth. The Redlegs got their other marker in the seventh on singles by Bridges and Bobby Adams and a wild throw to first by reliever Bob Hall.

Adams led the 13 hit barrage against four Pirate pitchers with three singles. Every Redleg collected at least one hit except first baseman Ted Kluszewski and shortstop Roy McMillan.

Outfielder Hal Rice got the only extra base blow off Perkowski—a double in the fourth inning. Perkowski struck out three and walked none.

Musial Feeling Fine, But Worried About His Hitting

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK, July 23 (P)—Stan Musial hopped down from the rubbering table where Doc Weaver had been practicing his pretzel berd technique in loosing the links of the St. Louis Cardinals' most valuable property.

Clad only in shorts, Stan was the picture athlete as he stood there, his torso lean and flat, his shoulders sloping and muscular. He hasn't been doing so well this year. Doing so well for Musial, that is. Most other players would figure they were having a great year if they were doing as well.

You can't pry an "out" out of him. He's feeling fine. In fact, everything is fine. You'd think he was hitting .420 and had 39 home runs.

Only by little incidents can you tell he is slightly worried. Such as his reaction to the little panto-mime provided by Doc Weaver, as Stan turned toward the dressing room at the Polo grounds.

"He's Stan," Weaver called and Musial turned to see the famed trainer and yachtman imitating the Musial stance at the plate.

"You've got it," Musial laughed, "but bend that knee a little more."

New Weaver brought the bat down in a chopping motion. "You're pounding it down. Musial snickered suddenly.

"Am I?" he exclaimed.

The way he said it told the story. He was the golfer who can't find the fault in his swing the bower who knows he is making a bad move but can't figure out just what it is. He is grasping at straws, hoping to find the key to his trouble.

"Like this," Doc illustrated by following through with a smooth swing. Musial got the idea. Doc didn't elaborate.

After all, he's just paid to keep the athletes fit, not to instruct them.

I've seen an awful lot of lumber carried to the plate over the years," he said casually. And by an awful lot of fine hitters, he might have added. Not a fine lot of awful hitters.

We asked "The Man" if he had studied pictures of himself in action to find out what was wrong. He laughed engagingly.

"I never had any taken," he said. "I never needed any before. It's just some little thing wrong with my timing, I guess."

MIKE REBA, coach and custodian of baseballs, was dressed in his uniform and seated on the steps waiting to go out. He's 50

Immortality Assured

Florence Chadwick Approaches Climax of Great Career

NEW YORK, July 23 (P)—Florence Chadwick, the "swimming gal" of this generation, is reaching the climax of her career with sports immortality assured.

This month she is out to add the four mile Dardanelles and the 13-mile Straits of Gibraltar to her conquests which already include the English channel and the swim from California to Catalina island.

Then she will try to better the record of the "wrong-way" crossing of the channel, from England to France. The only woman to have made it each way, she wants to better her former mark of 16 hours and 19 minutes by 35 minutes, thereby breaking the men's record of Tom Blower.

Fame has come surprisingly slowly to fabulous Florence, considering her accomplishments. "Probably it is because of her unique philosophy of achieving first, and then reaping whatever harvest of acclaim may come her way."

When in 1950 she smashed Gertrude Ederle's women's record for the English channel by more than an hour, she did it without fanfare while a score of others competed in a contest sponsored by a London newspaper. No scribes were on hand either to see her off or to watch her scramble ashore.

Florence may be "sneaking up" on fame belatedly, but her swimming is no accident. Daughter of a swimming instructor, she was a competitor at only nine years old.

After the child prodigy days were over, however, there was long years of heartbreaking failure. As a teenager, she specialized in the backstroke, and in those days you heard only about Eleanor Holm.

The plaudits went to others as Florence never quite won a national title or made the Olympie team. Later it was Esther Williams who occupied the limelight, with Florence always the "also ran."

Then she turned to the distance races, and things brightened up as her determination and stamina—but most of all her surprising philosophy of competition—began to pay dividends.

THE DIVIDENDS came slowly at first. She aspired to be a swimming instructor, like her dad, and managed to get a job at 25. However, her skills as a typist and office worker met the bills, and paved the way for her to take a job with an oil company in Saudi Arabia, where she trained in the Persian gulf for the Channel swim.

Losing lots of races for nearly two decades built Florence's stamina in personality as well as physique. In defeat she could flash a now-famous smile, without forcing it a bit.

In fact, she decided against trying to force anything. "Don't set out to conquer," she says, "or to fight. Just plan to make out the best you can under any set of circumstances and enjoy the challenge."

FLORENCE emphasizes that instead of "conquering" the English channel, she made it her "partner." The dark treacherous waters of the current whipped channel have awed most other swimmers, but she claims them as her friends. "I enjoyed it," she said of her record breaking swim.

People around her get tense, but not Florence. When cold waters of the Catalina channel turned her back last Summer—on her first attempt, her mother, Mrs. Mary Chadwick, was dissatisfied with the way her trainers handled her swim.

FLORENCE, typically, made no complaint. "My mother is certainly well-meaning," she said cheerfully, "and perhaps more disappointed than I was but I have nothing but praise for the men who worked with me, and I want them all back again."

They were, and two months later she became the first woman to swim the channel. After five hours of sleep, she was up planning her next swims.

Florence, however, in her project of "making friends" with the most inhospitable swimming waters in the world still faces two challenges. Will the English channel be friendly enough to let her realize her ambition to swim the round trip?

Will she ever tackle that forbidding two miles between Reggio on the Italian mainland and the Sicilian port of Messina, where lurk the two ancient submarine monsters of legendary fame, the dreaded whirlpools of Scylla and Charybdis?

Who knows?

Sox Reject Move To Bring Piedmont Ball to Petersburg

RICHMOND, Va., July 23.—The Boston Red Sox today rejected a move to bring the Piedmont League to Petersburg, Va., for the 1954 season. The Sox, who are currently in the American League, had been asked to consider the move by the Petersburg Baseball Association. The Sox, however, decided to remain in the American League for the time being.

Athletics Defeat St. Louis in 14th Inning, 7-4

ST. LOUIS, July 23.—The Philadelphia Athletics solved relief hurler Satchel Paige for four hits, including Eddie Robinson's 2-run triple, in the 14th inning for a 7-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns tonight, leaving the Browns just half a game out of the American League cellar.

The runs, the first by the 'A's in the game after three in the fifth inning, came with none out. Joe DeMaestri and Dave Philley opened the 14th with singles.

A balk advanced both runners and DeMaestri scored on a single by Pete Suder. Robinson's triple followed.

The Browns trailed 4-0 until the sixth when Dick Kryhoski singled with the bases full, scoring Bobby Young and Vic Wertz. A double by Bill Hunter scored Don Lenhardt.

St. Louis tied the count with a seventh-inning double by Dick Kokos, scoring Young.

A home run by Philley in the third gave the A's their first marker.

They broke loose for three in the fifth on singles by DeMaestri and Philley, a double by Suder and single by Robinson.

Morrie Martin, who relieved starter Charlie Bishop in the seventh and gave up the tying run, lasted the rest of the way for his fifth triumph of the season.

Double plays in the 10th, 11th and 13th innings helped Martin get out of possible trouble.

Carry The News Wins

NEW YORK, July 23.—C. V. Whitney's Carry the News, well rated by Hedley Woodhouse, led all the way to win the $100,000 added Molly Bram handicap at Jamaica today.

The 2-year-old daughter of Mahomud Legend Bearer stepped the mile and a sixteenth in 1:42 4/5 on a wet track in winning by a length and a half from Matthew J. Cremen's Be Gracious.

Three and a half lengths back came George D. Widener's No Score.

Carry the News returned $8.50, $4.50 and $3.00.

Kellar "Ready to Move," Now That He's Hit Win Column

It was a long time between feature victories for Monk Kellar, the illustrious stock car speedster from Pottstown, but he has reason to hope that the drought has finally run its course.

Kellar whisked his No. 69X, a familiar fixture at Sanatoga speed way, in under the checkerboard flag last Saturday night in a glossy exhibition of driving. It was his first win since July of 1951, but probably not his last of 1953.

Mulloy Paces US In Davis Cup Wins

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 23.—The United States whipped to a 2-0 lead over the British West Indies today on straight set victories by Bernard Barten and captain Gardner Mulloy in the second round of the North American Zone Davis Cup tennis competition.

The 39-year-old Mulloy, a veteran of innumerable international battles, turned back Ian McDonald, the No. 1 player in the Indies, 6-1, 6-3, 6-0, while the youthful Barten, a former Army sergeant, coasted to a 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 triumph over Ron Cooper.

The Americans now need to win only one more match to get past the round. The doubles are slated for tomorrow and the final two singles will be played Saturday.

McDonald, a shrewd player, was a disappointment to the home experts who expected him to put up more resistance against Mulloy. But the United States playing captain was at his best. His only mistakes were a couple of double faults and an occasional near-miss when he was aiming for the baseline.

Turner Weathers 3d Round; Decisions Lombardo at Hershey

HERSHEY, July 23.—Gil Turner, 153 1/2, Philadelphia, tonight won his 28th ring victory in 41 fights by recording a unanimous decision over Johnny Lombardo, 150, Mount Carmel, in an eight round battle.

A crowd of 2,420 paid $8.50 to witness the return bout between the second ranking welterweight contender and the free-swinging Lombardo.

Lombardo gave Turner trouble in the third round with a series of jolting rights and for a moment it looked like a possible upset. However, the Philadelphian unleashed an attack that pegged Lombardo with lefts and rights and slowed the coal region slugger down.

Referee Tony Prince, Harrisburg, scored the bout 5-3 in favor of Turner. Judge John Kelley had it 6-1 in favor of Turner with one even, and Judge John Senti had it 3-1 Turner and four even.

Turner scored a seventh round TKO over Lombardo when they met last May in New York.

IT WAS the first professional fight in the $900 seat Hershey arena in two years and the small turnout disappointed Promoter Pete Moran.

The 22-year-old Turner used his one-inch reach advantage to good effect in the first two rounds, jabbing to keep Lombardo consistently off balance.

Lombardo, however, broke through Turner's defense in the middle of the third with a high right to the Philadelphia boy's head.

Turner, noted for his recuperative powers, came back quickly, however, and weathered the round easily.

In the rounds following the third Lombardo tired, and Turner had several good shots at his head, but was unable to follow them up.

Following his win tonight, Turner will prepare for a scheduled 10-round go against Ramon Fuentes in Madison Square garden Aug. 12.

Jerry Hennessey, defensive end for the Washington Redskins in the NFL, works as a movie stunt man in Hollywood during the off-season. Flamingo Stakes in late February.

Golf Greats Meet To Honor Hogan

NEW YORK, July 23.—The golf great of more than half a century joined tonight in paying tribute to Ben Hogan, current undisputed king of the fairways.

Robert Tyre Jones Jr., the immortal Bobby of the Golden Twenties, headed the cast of ex-champions who honored the Texas comebacker at a special dinner given at a mid-town hotel by the US Golf association.

Hogan was presented a hand-engraved copy of a USGA resolution eulogizing him for his four US Open championships and his recent British Open victory at Carnoustie, Scotland.

The Fort Worth, Tex., master was given a ticketette reception up Broadway upon his return from Britain Tuesday—the first of its kind for a golfer since Jones was honored during his Grand Slam year of 1930.

FINLEY DOUGLAS, who won the US Amateur title in 1898, and Fred McLeod, 1908 US Open champion and oldest living holder of that title, were among the 96 guests.

Other champions present included: Gene Sarazen, who won both the US and British Opens in 1932; Denny Shute, 1933 British Open victor; Harvie Ward Jr., 1952 British amateur king; and four former US Open titlists—Francis Ouimet, 1913; Johnny Farrell, 1928; Tony Manero, 1936, and Lew Worsham, 1947.

ANYDLBAANR IS LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, N for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT GERF

LONG ISLAND RAILROAD commuters will lend a most sympathetic ear to a tale told by witty "Bob" Casey in his book, "Chicago Medium Rare." A trainload aboard a Chi el was suddenly stranded at the Addison Street station. The motorman heard such a wild burst of cheering from the Cubs' baseball park as he brought the train to a stop that he unhooked his controls, opened the door, and hot-footed it to the bleachers where he arrived for a seventh-inning rally. The elevated line was tied up for forty-five minutes while the management sought frantically to dig up a new motorman—doubtless one who preferred the White Sox.

John Straley reports that some gagwriters paid a visit to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, but scowled at its masterpieces. "What kinda pix are these?" demanded one gagster. "Where's the jokes under them?"

Perk Up Picnics!

Little sister was entertaining the visitors until her mother was ready. One of the ladies remarked to the other with a significant look, "Not very p-r-e-t-t-y" (spelling) the word.

"No," answered the child, "but awfully s-m-a-r-t!"

When a girl says she's got a boyish figure, it's usually straight from the shoulder.

ABC Votes to Send Four to Camp

The membership of the American Business club attending last night's dinner meeting in the Elks home voted to send four underprivileged youngsters to the Pottstown Community camp.

Club Publicity Chairman J. B. Sessoms said the four youngsters would be chosen by the camp directors.

In a report on the recently installed fountain at No. 2 ball field in Manatoway park, John Hoffecker stated that the fountain is in operation and others will be installed.

Member William Hillegass also reported on the general club council meeting on signs. At this session Hillegass said it was approved to erect large signs at the entrances of town with a list of all clubs on it.

The ABC went on record as approving such a measure.

STATE Gov. Joe L. Bowen early in the meeting gave a talk on the recent national convention. Bowen also is club president.

With reference to the ABC-sponsored charity basketball game, held each year during Christmas vacation, the group voted to continue sponsoring the contest. Proceeds from this game will go into a fund which will

Junior Optimists Win Baseball Game at The Hill's Far Field

The losers supplied the refreshments after a baseball game between senior and junior Optimist club members last night.

The score was 12 to 9 in favor of the juniors after five innings on the far field at The Hill school.

At that point the youngsters were declared the victors, and both teams repaired to Kenilworth playground for a picnic supper.

"Star fielders" in the nip-and-tuck game, a spokesman revealed, were Dr. Walter Schell, Edward J. Sweeney Jr. and Randall Stoltz, all of the adult team.

Opposing pitchers were Mac McNeil and Carl Ritter. Thomas Swartz hit the only home run of the evening.

All junior players were from the Optimist Kneehi team. Game time was 6:30 p. m. and the contest lasted until 8 p. m. On Monday night the Optimist board of governors will meet at 8 p. m. at the home of President Bruce Lessig.
